Demolition of WHS gymnasium planned for February Break

By CHRISTINE KENNEY
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - Despite a pending appeal against the Wilmington High School building project, Joanne Benton, superintendent of Wilmington Public Schools, announced that the WHS gymnasium was scheduled for demolition at the Jan. 9 School Committee meeting.

"We are going forward with the demolition of the gymnasium during February vacation," Benton said.

The announcement was one Benton has been eagerly waiting to make. The project to build a new high school, which was overwhelmingly supported by residents when it was first introduced, has been appealed several times since the project was approved. Although most residents are still supportive of the project that Benton and other town officials describe as needed, Gerald O'Reilly, an abutter of the school's property, has filed his most recent appeal to Superior Court citing environmental concerns.

Although the appeal is still underway, Benton is not concerned that the appeal will prevent the project moving forward. She noted that the appeals made in the past have not been found to have substance, and she suspects the most recent appeal will result in the same outcome. To wait, Benton said, would not be financially responsible.

"Every day that we do not do construction we are losing more money," Benton said. "I don't think we can afford to wait any longer, and the town agrees with me."

The area of concern listed in the appeal is near the fields at the back of the school. The gym, Benton said, is on the side of the building and does not impact the area.

Safety

As it was the first School Committee meeting since the Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting in Newtown, Conn., the subject of school safety and security was discussed. Benton announced that the ALICE program, which is designed to teach school staff what to do in the case of an active shooter emer-

Todd Brisbois merges his firm with his mother's CPA firm

By SHARON ADELMAN

Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - It's a New Year - a time to move forward with some new and exciting changes for Todd Brisbois of Brisbois Capital Management.

After the sudden passing of his mother, Joyce K. Brisbois, in December 2011, Todd wanted her legacy of superior customer service to live on. "It was always her belief that everyone deserves quality financial advice with a great client experience. That was her foundation," Todd said. "She passed those principles on to me which I've applied every day."

Todd's mother founded Joyce K. Brisbois CPA, and for more than 35 years, worked within the tax and financial industry. "My mother was a client advocate. She believed in Wilmington, and gave back through services like the Wilmington Rotary Club and various charities."

Todd said he was born and bred into the finance industry. "It's ingrained in me," he said.

Following in his mother's financially savvy footsteps,

Enough Already

MacDonald disrupts yet another meeting

By CHRISTINE KENNEY
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - Despite a long agenda, the focus of the Monday, January 14, Board of Selectmen meeting seemed to stray away from town matters, with much of the discussion centered on a resident Selectmen Chair Mike Newhouse described as continuously disruptive. While the board often engages in heated arguments with resident Kevin MacDonald—almost as if the tense conversations are part of the meeting agendas—Monday night's meeting appeared to be different in nature. Three Wilmington police officers were present, and after announcing that

WHS Grad to attend Inauguration

WILMINGTON - Wilmington High School graduate, Erika Johnson, will be attending the 2013 Presidential Inauguration January 21st in Washington, D.C.

Now a sophomore at Roger Williams College in Bristol, Rhode Island, the 2011 WHS graduate is a political science major and Secretary of the College Democrats, a group that identifies with the Democratic Party. "We volunteer and campaign for local democratic leaders," Johnson said. She was elected Secretary the second semester of her freshman year.

Johnson has been to the Capital before, however this will be her first Presidential Inauguration. "I'm going as part of the College Democrats club," she said. During campaign season, Johnson and the College Democrats logged more than 60 hours campaigning for Rhode Island democratic politicians Senator Sheldon Whitehouse and Congressman David Cicilline.

"Every other Saturday we went to New Hampshire. It was the closest swing state campaigning for President Obama," Johnson said. "On election night we were at the Biltmore Hotel in Providence with the Democratic Party and our club president talked to Senator Whitehouse." The Senator encouraged the group to attend the inauguration. "We thought it would be a great way to reward our members for all their hard work and dedication," she said.

Johnson credits high school teachers, Maura Tucker and Lisa Desberg for their influence on her path

Selectmen Round-Up

Project costs rise on school window and door replacements

By CHRISTINE KENNEY
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - At the Board of Selectmen meeting on Monday, January 14, Tony Sievers, project manager for Diversified Project Management reported that the cost for the replacement of windows and doors at the North Intermediate School has come in significantly higher than what was approved at the 2012 Town Meeting.

The project was thought to be comparable to the same undertaking at the Shawsheen School project completed in 2010. However, Sievers explained that rising costs in labor and materials and the difference in windows at the two schools result in a much higher cost.

The project is part of the MSBA accelerated repair program in which the government agency reimburses the town a percentage of the cost. However, the town must appropriate the full amount of the cost toward the project at its inception. The town had previously voted to appropriate approximately $804,000 to the project, basing the cost on Shawsheen. With the increase in cost for the North School project, the town will experience a net cost of more than $740,000. The net cost comes in under the initial appropriation but does not incorporate the full cost of the project, which the town must vote to provide in order for the project to move forward.

"Regardless of the unfortunate news, I don't think there's any reason from my standpoint to do anything other than support the project," said Selectmen Judith O'Connell.

The board did not take a vote, but rather acknowledged that the topic will need to be brought up at a future Town Meeting.

Housing Authorities Consolidation

Also discussed at the meeting was Gov. Deval Patrick's announcement that he will file legislation to regionalize housing authorities in the state. Regionalization would mean that the operation and financial management of local housing authorities would be performed in a central location, which could affect residents of Wilmington. Selectmen Michael Champoux expressed concern that if the office is moved out of town, it may be difficult for residents to get a way there.

MMA Annual Report Contest

Town Manager Jeffrey Hull announced that for the eighth time in nine years the town has been recognized by the Massachusetts Municipal Association (MMA) in its annual town report contest. This year, Wilmington secured third place in category 1, which includes communities with 12,500 or more residents. Hull said a special thank you to Beverly Dalton, administrative assistant to the town manager, who Hull said was instrumental in the report's completion.

Todd founded Brisbois Capital in 2003, utilizing more than 20 years of experience in the money management industry, providing his clients with high-level services in tax and finances. Featured in Forbes Magazine (Feb. 2008) for his expertise as an independent advisor, Todd was recognized for his personal attention to clients, both individuals and small to mid-size businesses, distinguishing Brisbois Capital from larger firms which sometimes intimidate customers.

The forward-thinking Brisbois family had been planning to merge the two companies for some time. "It was something Mom and I were working on for years - this was a planned succession strategy - we just didn't expect it would happen that soon," Todd said. After his mother's passing, Todd went forward with his mother's vision to continue the integration.

"We were operational last year, but the full transition is completed in time for 2013," Todd clarified. He will now work with his mother's clients in the areas of integrated tax, finance, and insurance. "We are truly an integrated firm, so clients can get comprehensive help from tax planning to saving for retirement." Brisbois Capital will educate clients in planning for their future. "And for our clients' future legacies," Todd added.

People who worked with Joyce Brisbois will find comfort knowing her ideologies - a strong work ethic and passion - will remain part of the fabric of Brisbois Capital. "I will continue to extend those great services to new and existing clients," Todd said. Enrolled agent, Christine Castronovo, who had been with Joyce Brisbois for 28 years has joined Todd's team. "That's the kind of dedication my mother surrounded herself with. Our employees and clients have been with us a long time."

The Brisbois family has been part of the Wilmington community since 1972. Todd and his family moved briefly to Bradford, Massachusetts, then nostalgic for his hometown, returned with his wife and two girls, ages 7 and 9. "I even bought the house in front of the house where I grew up," Todd said. "It's funny how things come full circle." Todd's wife also has a Wilmington-based business, TJB Consulting, which works with hospital and physician practices.

This year Todd will implement an educational component to Brisbois Capital. As President of the Middlesex County Chapter for the Society of Financial Awareness, he will hold educational events at schools, clubs and other organizations. "We could go into a company and provide education on 401K, legal issues, and life insurance," he said. "We stress the importance of education. We'll answer tax, legal, and life insurance questions, educate on retirement savings, and offer financial solutions and strategies."

OSHA cites Wilmington food company for hazards

Progressive Gourmet Inc. faces $73,400 in fines

ANDOVER, Mass. - The U.S. Department of Labor's Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has cited Progressive Gourmet Inc. for alleged repeat and serious safety violations at a Wilmington, Mass., production facility.

The wholesale food manufacturer and distributor for food service and catering industries faces a total of $73,400 in fines following inspections, which started in September 2102 by OSHA's Andover Area Office in response to employee complaints.

A call placed to Progressive Gourmet Wednesday morning was not immediately returned. According to the firm's website, the company provides "specialty foods for a range of banquet operations, including banquet halls, hotels, country clubs, restaurants, caterers and colleges."

OSHA found that the facility lacked adequate procedures to prevent the unintended startup of machinery, such as cookers, ovens and conveyors, while employees performed service and maintenance on the equipment. The company also failed to provide all affected employees with information and training on how to power down and lock out the machines' power sources before performing maintenance. As a result of these latest conditions, the company was cited for two repeat violations with $55,000 in proposed fines. A repeat violation exists when an employer previously has been cited for the same or a similar violation of a standard, regulation, rule or order at any other facility in federal enforcement states within the last five years. Similar violations were cited at this location in 2008.

OSHA also issued Progressive Gourmet three serious citations with $18,400 in fines for lack of routine inspections and maintenance to ensure safe operation of the plant's anhydrous ammonia refrigeration system, insufficient space between stored materials and overhead piping containing ammonia to allow for safe access to stored materials, and slipping and tripping hazards from wet work floors. A serious violation occurs when there is substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result from a hazard about which the employer knew or should have known.

"Left uncorrected, these conditions expose employees to a release of ammonia, slips and falls and to being caught in unexpectedly activated machinery," said Jeffrey A. Erskine, OSHA's area director for Middlesex and Essex counties in Massachusetts. "Prompt, effective and ongoing corrective action is necessary to eliminate these hazards and prevent their recurrence."

The company has 15 business days from receipt of its citations and proposed penalties to comply, meet with OSHA's area director or contest the findings before the independent Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission.

Under the Occupational Safety and Health Act of 1970, employers are responsible for providing safe and healthful workplaces for their employees. OSHA's role is to ensure these conditions for America's working men and women by setting and enforcing standards, and providing training, education and assistance. ## MTV's 'Made' coming to WHS

Popular TV show celebrates success

By CHRISTINE KENNEY
Crier Correspondent

WILMINGTON - Lights. Camera. Action! A Wilmington High School student just might be able to secure a spot on MTV's program, "Made." The reality TV show features young people who are trying to accomplish a life goal. MTV supplies the person with an expert coach who assists him or her in achieving the goal, which can be anything from losing weight to joining the cheerleading squad. The producers of the show will be holding a casting call at Wilmington High on January 22.

According to Dennis Mahoney, assistant principal at WHS, the network contacted the school and asked to hold the casting call. Students who are interested are required to fill out a questionnaire that poses questions such as, "How do other people at your school view you?" and "How would achieving this goal change your life?"

Students will each have a 5-7 minute interview with someone from the network. There is no guarantee that a WHS student will be chosen for the program, but if one is, MTV will be gracing the school's halls, recording the student's progress toward accomplishing the goal. The show is often intensive and the Made "coach" often pushes the student to his or her limit to make the goal a reality.

Mahoney said he has received much student interest in participating in the casting call.

The casting call will not appear on MTV.

Letters to the editor

Letter from Rick Menard

Dear Editor,
I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself to your readers and announce my candidacy for Selectman in Tewksbury. This is my first race in town politics and wasn't raised in Tewksbury so I am a relatively unknown.

What prompted me to run is the recent lack of attention being paid to my part of town, the South side. I found it deplorable that it took a second vote at an annual town meeting for our administration to fund our local firehouse. As a firefighter myself in the City of Malden, I know first hand that second literally means the difference between life and death. If you don't believe me, ask the mother of poor 7week old Carmelo who was thrown to the ground by his father in that city. He was blue when we got there and had it been in Tewksbury with "Southie" closed, he would have died. To think that we had to choose between a street sweeper and a firehouse is what made me decide to get off the bench and into the game.

Prior to my life in fire services, I was a teacher on both the elementary and high school levels. I still stay active as an educator, substitute teaching at both the Trahan and Ryan on my off days. I run the education program for my fire department and write the grants that fund the supplies as well.

My wife is a teacher and my three wonderful (usually) children have enjoyed a better life than ours, growing up in a nice suburban community. Times like these are hard and we have struggled, especially when my wife was laid off a few years ago and we were challenged to maintain. That struggle, combined with my upbringing, have taught me that hard work and difficult decisions are what you need when you're up against it. When my dad's business couldn't afford to send us to college, mom picked up extra shifts nursing and we had to lower our undergrad expectations...not to mention, forget about those fancy pay channels on the cable "clickah".

We moved here with a promise of a better life for our kids and though Tewksbury has been one of the smartest decisions of our lives, I'm not ready to settle. We need to continue to make steps in the right direction, to work with our State Reps to seek out any way we can to enhance our community. To make the tough decisions, to hold our local government accountable and to get some fresh ideas at that table.

I am the man you call when you need help. Not just as a profession but in all walks of life. I make sure that Dottie across the street gets her drive shoveled and lawn mowed because she's a 70 year old widow and that's what you do. I'm the guy who, on my off days, offers to take over the 'book' for the baseball coach so he can focus on the kids. I'm the guy who does these things because they are the right thing to do, not for power or to get my name in the paper. I'm the guy in this race for the right reasons, to make a difference....this is not about ego, notoriety, or a grudge. Our town is on the brink...I've seen it in Malden which is why we got out before things got out of hand. Today Malden has shootings, crime, and brand new schools literally falling apart due to neglect. If Tewksbury can't get our priorities straight, then we're not too far behind.

I'm not a lawyer, doctor, or scientist...but I am pretty bright and willing to work hard for you. Please consider me for one of your votes on April 6th. A voice for South Tewksbury, common sense for the Town.

Thanks,

~ Rick

Helping the homeless this winter

Dear Editor,
Lowell Transitional Living Center (LTLC) would like to express our gratitude on behalf of the homeless men and women we serve each night for the acts of kindness we've witnessed throughout the holiday season.

This year is LTLC's 14th year operating the winter emergency program, which provides a warm bed and hot meal to Greater Lowell's unsheltered homeless. Already, early in the season, LTLC has served over 190 individuals whose only other option was the streets.

We offer this service to keep those who struggle with homelessness safe and we do it with compassion and dedication. The LTLC winter emergency program opens its doors in November when the temperature dips and remains open throughout the winter months depending solely upon private donations and foundation support. With many cold winter weeks left there is still time to help and many ways the community can help from serving an evening meal, to donating new warm weather gear to making a charitable contribution.

The winter emergency program is critical helping the community's frailest; most vulnerable population yet receives no federal, state or municipal support. Community giving small and large has been a literal life saver to so many and has allowed us to continue offering shelter to anyone who comes to our door.

Again, to those who have given to LTLC, we thank you and to those who would like to give to LTLC we welcome you to learn more, do more and connect with a mission that meets the most basic human need. Make 2013 the year you engage with LTLC and work together to prevent homelessness.

Sincerely,

David McCloskey
Executive Director
Lowell Transitional Living Center

Betsy's Best Bets

by Betsy Woods McGuire

If You Could Read My Mind

The habit of reading is the only enjoyment in which there is no alloy; it lasts when all other pleasures fade. (Anthony Trollope)

The months of January and February are the two months that I look forward to with cheerful anticipation. No, I don't ski or vacation in sunny Florida - quite the contrary. But I do hibernate to some extent - the "torpor" type of hibernation, which puts me in the same category as skunks, raccoons, mice, bats, birds, and marsupials.

It's such a relief to be past the holiday hype and obligation. To come up for air, and look around, and know that there is nothing big-deal immediately upcoming. It's a time to stay home a lot and get to some serious house cleaning, at my own leisurely pace, between naps and coffee. I'm not talking about those daily things - I'm talking about those once-a-year cleaning jobs like scouring the kitchen drawers where dog hairs have somehow found their way and dusting ceiling fan blades and all those open shelves, bookcases, and hard-to-reach lights. Crawling around on my hands and knees, I get into those bottom kitchen cabinets with my ancient hand-held Mighty Mite vacuum cleaner. It's a mystery how so much dust and dirt can get through closed cabinet doors.

It's also a great time of the year to easily avoid being social. When I do go out, hiding under a bulky down jacket, hood and big scarf is almost like being disguised. I can't tell you how many times in the winter I've passed someone, on foot, usually at the plaza, and had the feeling that we knew each other but neither one of us was sure. We passed in silence - a much needed break from being personable.

Cooking goes from necessity to enjoyment and then to appreciation as the oven takes the chill off the house without turning up the thermostat. Making meals and baking breads and pies feels so satisfying and natural. During the nice weather all of these household chores are tasks to be completed, with a little bit of added resentment. In other words, I want to be outside.

But without a doubt what makes this time of the year the best is books. During the winter I do more reading by far than at any other time. Sometimes during the day, and just about every evening, I'm crunched into my "spot" with my face behind a book. My couch is in the front part of the house, next to the sunroom. I love this little corner because of what I'm surrounded by and what I see when I glance up - and pause - while ruminating about what I'm reading. My living room is a reading room - compact, not big, with floor-to-ceiling bookcases across one whole wall. Another wall has pictures of artists and authors that I have enshrined - Truman Capote, Jack Kerouac, May Sarton, James Baldwin, Rudolph Nereyev, Seiji Ozawa, Edvard Munch and others.

The big sunroom windows and open archways between the rooms allow sunlight to stream in during the day. My lamp was at one time a fire extinguisher from the historic Mildred Rogers School. My "end table and footstool" was a first grade desk and chair from that same school. The charm of the room comes from the age of this century-old house. Worn hardwood floors, French doors and a window seat add warmth to the "canvas" that I burrow into, sipping tea and listening to music while lost in the exquisite pleasure of reading endlessly.

So here is this year's winter reading list in case you're interested. What people read is so extremely personal that no one can assume that a best friend or even identical twin will love the same books. But following book reviews and listening to the suggestions of others and browsing around my favorite book stores is how I stay occupied while on the never ending search for escapism, inspiration and knowledge.

Every year for as long as I can remember "The Old Farmer's Almanac" is a must - I can't live without it. The pages are filled with lots of useful facts, quirky information, common sense advice and most of all "Sky Watch." Phases of the moon, the stars, sunrise-sunset, the length of days, and the tides are charted for every day of the year. I buy two - one for the house and one for the car. I refer to it continually throughout the year.

Another yearly must-have book is "The Best American Essays." I started out reading the best short stories, but in no time I was soured on contemporary short story writers. In my opinion they are not what they use to be - I'll leave it at that. But oh, the best essays are so thought-provoking and at the same time entertaining. These writers have the rare gift of insight and the ability to put into words what the rest of us can only feel emotionally.

For fiction I'm looking forward to "Lunch With Buddha" by Roland Merullo and "Live by Night" by Dennis Lehane, two authors that I love. I've read everything that Merullo has written, starting with "Revere Beach Boulevard" (still my favorite), then going back to his previous novels and continuing to follow him. After reading "Mystic River" I was hooked on Lehane and have read everything he's written since. And because of that, last year I read "Boston Noir" and can't wait to read "Boston Noir-2," both edited by Dennis Lehane.

Since discovering "The Man Who Mistook His Wife For A Hat," I've read every word that Oliver Sacks has written. He's a professor of neurology at NYU School of Medicine. The expression "truth is stranger than fiction" fits all of Sacks' fascinating stories - his latest collection titled "Hallucinations" promises to be equally captivating.

Last but not least, "The Christmas Kid" by Pete Hamill is a collection of stories that were first published on Sundays by the New York Daily News in the early 1980s. Pete Hamill is my absolutely favorite writer of today! I've seen him speak twice at Porter Square Books - and got to ask him a question about his writing that I've always wanted to ask. In person I fell in love with him even more. Hamill's way of writing really gets to me. I love his two memoirs, "A Drinking Life" and "Downtown: My Manhattan," but "Why Sinatra Matters" stands out for me. I've given it to several friends and relatives feeling pretty sure they would feel the same way - and they did.

Reading fuels the mind - it's the road to self-discovery and enlightenment. It teaches us to concentrate, and to think creatively and critically - and it develops our vocabulary. We can travel the world - time travel back to the past and experience the future - and acquire unlimited information. What other pursuit is more rewarding and pleasurable? And as a bonus, it's a pastime that must be performed alone - the contentedness and indulgence of solitude right at your fingertips.

'Tis the (flu) season

By SCOTT J. MULLOWNEY
Staff Columnist

The flu is on the tip of everyone's tongue. Literally. It starts with a scratchy-scratchy feeling in the back of your throat, a slightly runny nose, a tickling cough. Then it escalates to fever, aches, pains and general exhaustion. At first you think honey-lemon cough drops will sooth your symptoms, but after a few days you're drinking NyQuil™ DayQuil™ and any other Quil you can swallow just to get some relief.

My son was kept home from school for a couple of days while he recovered from a milder strain of the current flu. He told me he really didn't want to be absent for too many days. He said he was anxious to go back to school before he fell behind in his studies. At that point I was going to call the doctor because I was sure the virus affected his brain.

No matter what precautions healthy people take, the flu is everywhere. Everyone has it. No one wants it. It's the gift that keeps on giving. Workplaces are virtual ghost towns as one by one employees are struck down by the domino effect of the virus. Already understaffed offices are pushed to the limit even further as the flu claims multiple victims in rapid succession (bringing new meaning to the term skeleton crew). Even healthy employees are sniffing and hacking. Liquid hand-sanitizer is freely flowing at everyone's work station. I was never a fan of the fist-bump replacing the handshake, but now I think twice about rapping knuckles with anyone. In light of the current flu epidemic, I think handshakes should be replaced by something with less contact. I'd prefer a greeting along the lines of the "rock, paper, scissors" game with each hand gesture signifying your state of health at the moment.

When I opened my email from the Human Resources Department with the words "Flu Season" in bold in the subject line, I thought the company was going to send everyone home until the flu epidemic subsided. No such luck. My company sent a memo notifying employees that a special maintenance crew would be hired to take extra precautions by periodically disinfecting the buttons in the elevator. Talk about going the extra mile. I feel better already.

I don't want to downplay the severity of this record-breaking flu season. The local news stations are reporting emergency rooms filled to capacity. There is panic on the faces of the crowds rushing to be immunized. I have friends who have been bed-ridden for days trying to fight off the virus. The flu has already passed through members of my family (and it may be coming back for a second term).

This year's flu strain seems more virulent than ever.

Maybe it's because the younger generation has grown-up slathered in hand-sanitizer and their immune systems are breaking down. I'm going to pass on the flu shot this year and take my chances as the epidemic subsides. I know how the medicine works but I don't want to have a low dose of the virus injected into my body if I don't have to. I've had several people tell me they contracted the flu after getting immunized. Some people claim it works wonders, so best of luck to you if you're one of them.

When I was a child, kids played in the dirt everyday without fear of contracting diseases and look how well adjusted my generation turned out. Sometimes ignorance is bliss. Now pass the Purel™ and try not to breathe in my direction.

Shawsheen Tech

Mongiovi and Higgins are December's top seniors

BILLERICA - Erin Higgins of Tewksbury and Andrew Mongiovi of Billerica were recently honored as the Seniors of the Month for December at Shawsheen Valley Technical High School.

The students were recognized at a luncheon in the school's dining room on Dec. 13.

Higgins is one of the school's top culinary students and hopes to attend college in the fall to continue her education.

An honor roll student and a member of the National Honor Society, Higgins stays busy in school as a member of the marching band, the winter guard, and participates annually in SkillsUSA. Higgins has also taken advantage of Shawsheen's cooperative education program.

Outside of school, Higgins regularly participates in Finding Hope with Fashion, a benefit fashion show with proceeds going to a different charity each year.

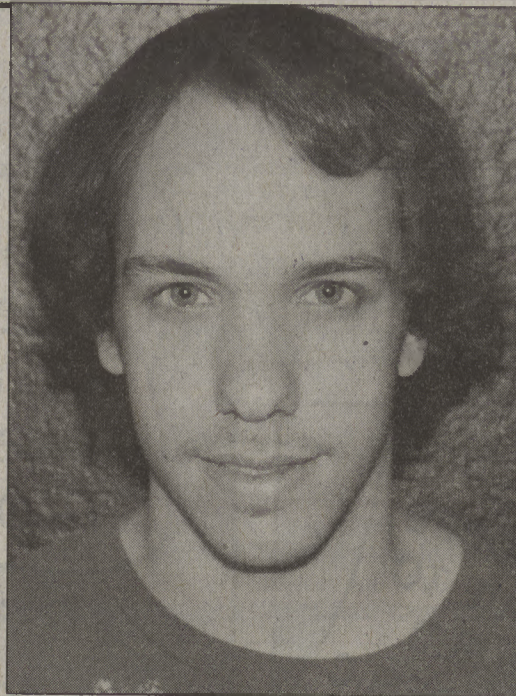

This year's show on March 10 will benefit the domestic violence division of Community Teamwork Inc. of Lowell. Mongiovi is a student in internet technology and also has plans to attend college after graduating from Shawsheen.

An outstanding student and a member of the National Honor Society, Mongiovi stays active within the hallways of Shawsheen by regularly competing in SkillsUSA and playing soccer for the Rams each fall.

He has also participated in a Youth Musical Ensemble.

An active member of the Boy Scouts, Mongiovi is currently working on his Eagle Scout Project.

Andrew Mongiovi, of Billerica, and Erin Higgins, of Tewksbury, are Shawsheen Tech's top seniors in December.

Preschool Developmental Screening in Tewksbury Public Schools

TWEXSBURY - Tewksbury Public Schools is pleased to offer an opportunity for parents/guardians to have their child participate in a developmental screening conducted by staff from the Integrated Preschool Program. Parents who may have concerns or questions about their child's development may request a screening by contacting Jan Fuller, Assistant Principal at the Dewing School.

This developmental screening is conducted by a team of child development specialists including an Early Childhood Specialist, Classroom Instructional Aide and Speech Language Pathologist. Parent interviews are conducted by the Special Education Case Manager at the same time that the child is screened. Screening will take place in a small group setting at the Dewing School and usually takes about an hour. Results of the screening are shared informally at the time of screening and in writing soon after screening.

For more information about our preschool programs and child development, please visit the preschool website at www.tewksbury.k12.ma.us/preschool. Parents who have questions or concerns should contact Ms. Fuller at 978-640-7858 or at jfuller@tewksbury.k12.ma.us.

Comedy Night slated for Feb. 1

WILMINGTON - Here's to a New Year filled with fun and laughter!

The Wilmington Sons of Italy (SOI) and the Wilmington Band Parents are hosting their Annual Comedy Night on February 1st to benefit their respective scholarship funds.

This entertaining evening is the longest running Comedy Night in Wilmington, with this being the 35th year.

The event will be held at the Tewksbury & Wilmington Elks Hall on 777 South Street in Tewksbury.

Doors open at 8:00 pm and the show starts at 9:00 pm. Steve Bjork, Wilmington's own comedic headliner, will be Master of Ceremonies for the evening, introducing three outstanding comedians.

This year's headliner is Kenny Rogerson, who according to The Boston Herald, is a comic who "makes the absurd seem logical." Kenny has made several guest appearances on programs such as Late Night with Conan O'Brien, The Late Show with David Letterman and a special Showtime feature called A Pair of Jokers, to name a few. Other credits include Comedy Central, A&E and MTV. He appeared on the television show "Rescue Me" and the movie "There's Something About Mary."

For tickets to the Annual Comedy Night hosted by the Wilmington Sons of Italy and Wilmington Band Parents, call Kevin Cairat at 978-657-7734. Donation is $20 per person.

In addition to the show, there will be a raffle table and silent auction. Attendees are encouraged to bring their favorite food, munchies, and desserts for their table. There will be a cash bar. Don't miss out on a great evening. Order your tickets today!

Let's Hear it!!

Your Two Cents...

Thumbs up for police

Hats off to those Wilmington Policemen who wanted to join that Police Caravan to Virginia to visit that six year old boy, Nathan, who has brain cancer. He wanted Xmas cards from Pôlle, Firemen and EMTs, but instead was treated to over 200 real live Police, Firemen and EMTs delivering cards, gifts and best wishes to him personally. That was such a cool and touching gesture by all those who participated and all at their own expense.

Thank you to the Wilmington folks who wanted to be part of that, but weren't allowed to be. Your hearts were in the right place and people should hear about that. You make Wilmington very proud!

Welcome home

Great to see the Welcome Home signs for our local Servicemen and Servicewomen back on the town common! We are very proud of our local residents serving and protecting us and these signs show them a small token of Wilmington's appreciation for the sacrifices they make. Also, we would like to thank the person who puts these signs up.

Resource Officers

Thank you to our school resource officers for keeping our kids safe and thank you to WPD for the extra police presence at Wilmington Schools.

Tewksbury Senior Topics

Tewksbury COA News
The Silvertones will hold its first dance of the New Year this Friday, January 18th from 7:00 to 10:00 PM. Tickets are available at the door at $10 per person. The public is welcomed.

The Senior Center will be closed next Monday, January 21st, in recognition of Martin Luther King Jr. Day. A happy and safe holiday is wished to all.

Next Tuesday, January 22nd, Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley will conduct Free Memory Screenings from 9:00 AM to 3:00 PM. This event is free and the results of the screenings are immediately shared with you. The 15 minute screenings are conducted by ESMV. Space is limited and appointments are assigned on a first come-first serve basis. Memory screening is a simple and safe evaluation tool that checks memory and other thinking skills. It's a tool we may all benefit from. For an appointment call Jan or Linda at 978-640-4482.

The next day, on Wednesday, January 23rd at 10:00 AM, Home Instead will conduct a presentation on "Returning home from the hospital". The topics of discussion will be services provided after your stay in the hospital as well as the key words used in getting these services in place plus much more. Please sign-up at the front desk if you are planning to attend or call 978-640-4480 to have your name placed on the list.

DJ Jon Mansfield will be back to the Senior Center on Monday, January 28th. Tickets are now available at $6 per person. Those purchasing tickets by January 23rd will have lunch included.

The Friends Senior Center Valentine's Dance will be held on Friday, February 8th. The Entertainers Band will provide music for the evening. Tickets are now available at $10 per person. As noted last week, we are looking for those special Tewksbury couples that have been married 50 years or more and never recognized by the Council on Aging and Friends of the Elderly. If you are such a couple or know of a couple married 50 years or more, please submit their name and telephone number to our Secretary Jan or to Linda by calling the Center at 978-640-4482. We would love to have them as guests at our Valentine's dance.

Tickets are still available for the casino day trip to Foxwood on Wednesday, February 6th. One should note that the trip price is now $25 per person.

There are two trips posted on the Senior Center bulletin board with interest lists attached. One is to travel to Boston to watch Ballroom Dancing competitions for the afternoon on February 16 or 17.

The cost would be around $18. The second interest list is for Sunday, March 17th for the afternoon performance of the Young@Heart singing group...a Senior Citizen group that has travel around the world performing. This last trip is estimated to be around $40 and is held in Worcester, MA. If interested, please place your name on the list keeping in mind that the earlier tickets are purchased from the venue, the better the seats.

Several meetings have been scheduled for the Friday, January 25th. Senior Center volunteers should note the following times: An Activities Meeting at 10:00 AM; A Snooti Patooti Gift Shop meeting at 1:00 PM; and, A Receptionist Meeting at 2:30 PM. These meetings will be held in the conference room. All are welcome to attend.

Again, we remind Tewksbury Senior Citizens that help with Fuel Assistance applications are done at the Senior Center. To obtain information on the fuel assistance program and/or to schedule an appointment call 978-640-4482. The eligibility guidelines are: one person household up to $31,218; two family household up to $40,824; family of three $50,515; and, family of four $60,035. There are further guidelines for larger families. Younger families may call the Billerica Veteran's Agent at 978-671-0968 or Community Teamwork at 978-459-6161 for information and assistance. Every little bit helps these days so don't hesitate to apply if you qualify.

Our AARP Tax Assistance Volunteers will be back again this February to assist Seniors with their tax returns. We will begin to accept names right after the New Years. However, as noted, the volunteers will not begin until February. The normal routine is that one signs up at the Senior Center, the volunteers give us dates that they are available and the Director or the COA Secretary will call people to set up appointments. The office then sends out a confirmation of your appointment and a listing of what documentation you need to bring with you.

Have a great week. God Bless America.

Daniel P. Flaherty

Formerly of Tewksbury; talented and professional wood flooring contractor and artist

ERROL, NH - Mr. Daniel P. Flaherty, 56, of Errol, NH, died at the Upper Connecticut Valley Hospital in Colebrook, NH, on Thursday morning, January 11, 2013.

He was born on June 28, 1956, in Woburn, Mass., a son to Richard and Adeline (BenDavid) Flaherty. He was raised and educated in Tewksbury, Mass., and graduated from Tewksbury High School in 1975.

Daniel's career was spent as a talented and professional wood flooring contractor and artist. His intricate designs of inlaid floors, and his passion for perfection, are seen in many places, including Symphony Hall in Boston.

He was an avid hunter and fisherman, and his enjoyment of those pastimes brought his family to the north country five years ago. Daniel was a faithful member of the Jehovah's Witnesses, and was active in the Kingdom Hall until illness prevented his regular participation. He cherished any time that he was able to spend with his grandchildren, and he will be remembered by his family as the "Best Dad." He was a very loving husband and was always caring for others before caring for himself.

Daniel leaves behind his wife of 38 years, Kimberly (Drury) Flaherty of Errol; his mother, Adeline Winchester and husband Rick of Tewksbury, Mass.; his daughter, Deana Owen and husband Scottie of Pittsburg; his son, Kristopher Flaherty of Errol; five grandchildren, Mariah Edmonds, Victor and Jayda Laboy, and Elizabeth and Abigail Flaherty; two brothers, Kevin and David Flaherty of Tewksbury; two sisters, Susan (Flaherty) Woods of Tewksbury and Diane (Flaherty) Cahill and husband Scott of Tewksbury; three nieces, Kayla, Ellison and Megan; three nephews, Philip, Michael, and Tyler; his favorite uncle, "Uncle Eddie;" as well as his beloved canine companion, Sonny.

He is preceded in death by his father, Richard Flaherty. Memorial calling hours were held on Saturday, Jan. 12, 2013, from 3-5 p.m. at the Jenkins & Newman Funeral Home in Colebrook. Other services were private and at the convenience of the family.

Expressions of sympathy in memory of Mr. Flaherty may be made to Jenkins & Newman Funeral Home, 103 Main St., Colebrook, NH 03576 to help the family with final expenses.

Condolences may be offered to the family on-line by going to www.jenkinsnewman.com.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of Jenkins & Newman Funeral Home, Colebrook, NH.

Rachel A. McCarthy

Many years at the Woburn Nursing Center

DRACUT - Rachel A. (Palmer) McCarthy, age 59, of Dracut, formerly of Wilmington, passed away on January 13, 2013, at the Mass General Hospital. Born in Woburn on July 2, 1953, Rachel was the cherished daughter of Richard and Rachel (McLaughlin) Palmer. She was raised in Wilmington and attended Wilmington Public Schools.

After graduating Wilmington High School in 1971, Rachel went on to further her education at the Addison-Gilbert Nursing School in Gloucester. She was part of the last graduating class at that school. Upon graduating, Rachel began her long career in the profession she loved, nursing.

Rachel lived with her family, husband Jim and son James "Shamus", in Dracut. There they made many friends. They loved to take trips to the beach. Anywhere there was sand and water, Rachel would be there. They especially loved going to Gloucester and Ocean Park in Maine. She loved to cook, it seemed like every time she took out a pot, a group of people would show up to eat. Rachel loved having them around. Family was very important to her, she had the ability to remember everyone in the room's birthday, no matter how big the group, and making all feel special. Rachel also loved her pets and enjoyed spending time reading.

Rachel worked for many years at the Woburn Nursing Center, part of Salter Healthcare Company, on Francis Street in Woburn. She loved her work and enjoyed making people smile and laugh. Rachel treated all her patients with love and respect. She also liked to teach, she taught several nurse's aid courses at St. John's in Lowell.

Rachel will be missed sorely by her family, friends and all the lives she touched.

Rachel was the beloved wife of James F. McCarthy, III of Dracut. She was the loving mother of James P. "Shamus" McCarthy of Boston. She was the cherished daughter of Richard and the late Rachel (McLaughlin) Palmer of Wilmington. Rachel is the dear sister of Richard Palmer of Wilmington, Douglas Palmer of Boston, Jeffrey Palmer and his wife Karen of Manchester, NH, and Christine Taylor and her husband Bruce of CT. She very much enjoyed her role of "Auntie Rachel" to Daniel, Katherine, Joseph, Maeve, Graeme, Riley and his parents Nicholas and Courtney. Rachel is also survived by her many aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

Family and friends will gather for a visitation at the Nichols Funeral Home, 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rt. 62), Wilmington, on Friday, January 18, from 4-7 p.m. followed by a funeral service at 7 p.m. At the family's request, please omit flowers and plant a rosebush or tree as a memorial to Rachel, or donations in her name can be made to a charity of one's choice.

Edith L. Ward Narduzzo

30 years with Wilmington Police Department

WILMINGTON - Edith L. (Staples) Ward Narduzzo, age 85, of Wilmington, passed away peacefully on January 13, 2013. Born in Medford on September 12, 1927, she was the cherished daughter of the late Edwin F. and Margaret Staples. Edith grew up in Billerica and was a graduate of Billerica's Howe High School.

After high school, Edith married Kenneth Ward and moved to Wilmington where they built their home and raised their daughter, Janette. Edith then married Vincent "Jimmy" Narduzzo in 1976 and enjoyed twenty years of marriage until his passing. Edith and Kenneth reunited a few years ago and greatly enjoyed spending time together.

Edith worked for many years in the Wilmington Police Department. She started out as a crossing guard in 1956. In 1960, she became a part time clerk, which turned into full time in 1965. Edith retired 1985 after nearly 30 years in the department.

Edith loved dogs, spending many years breeding German Shepherds. Edith enjoyed going deep sea fishing, loved to go to horse races to see her brother's horse, liked to travel and took flying lessons. Edith was an active member of the Order of the Eastern Star, Wilmington United Methodist Church, and Angels in Motion (AIM) and she enjoyed going to activities at the Wilmington Senior Center.

Edith was all about her family and friends. She loved having her family and friends over for cookouts and celebrations throughout the year, especially her summer parties and Christmas Eve celebrations. Edith will be sorely missed by family, friends and all who knew and loved her.

Edith was the beloved companion of Kenneth Ward of Tewksbury, and wife of the late Vincent Narduzzo. She was the loving mother of the late Janette L. Powers and her late husband Richard and step-mother of Joseph Narduzzo and his wife Eileen of Boston. Edith was the cherished grandmother of Laurie Finne and her husband Kenneth of Wilmington, Joseph Narduzzo and his wife Camille of Boston, and Katie Narduzzo of Boston and great grandmother to Ayden Narduzzo. Dear sister of Lewis Staples and his wife Phyllis of Dunstable, George Staples and Nancy Parker, both of Billerica and the late Robert Staples. Edith is also survived by many nieces, nephews and friends.

Family and friends will gather for a funeral service at the Wilmington United Methodist Church, 87 Church St. (Rt. 62) Wilmington, on Thursday, January 17 at 11:00 a.m. Interment to follow in Wildwood Cemetery. Visiting hours will be held on Wednesday, January 16 from 3-7 p.m. at the Nichols Funeral Home, 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rt. 62), Wilmington.

Eric Joseph Gubellini

Master carpenter made fine furniture; formerly of Wilmington

LANDAFF, NH - Eric Joseph Gubellini, age 60, of Landaff, NH formerly of Salem, NH and Wilmington passed away unexpectedly on January 10, 2013. Born in Medford he was the cherished son of Carlo E. and Anita (Dionne) Gubellini of Wilmington.

Eric was raised in Wilmington where his family has lived for many years. He was a 1970 graduate of Austin Preparatory High School and following high school he attended Northeastern University. Eric worked for many years as a very talented master carpenter specializing in renovations and fine furniture making. Free spirited, Eric was always looking forward to his next big adventure. He especially enjoyed the outdoors, whether he was fishing, skiing or snowmobiling and he also had a great love of animals.

In addition to his parents, Eric is survived by his devoted daughter, Nicole Gubellini of Salem, NH. His loving sisters, Marcella Sweet, and Lisa Esposito and her husband Mark all of Wilmington. He was the uncle of Michael Sweet and his fiancée Alexandra, Daniel Sweet and his wife Sarah, Celeste Scifo and Joseph Esposito. He is also survived by his aunt, Rose Gubellini of Winchester.

A memorial service was conducted in the Dello Russo Funeral Home, 374 Main St., Wilmington, on Wednesday, January 16th, at 12 p.m. Relatives and friends were respectfully invited to attend and visit with the family prior to the service from 10:30 a.m. to 12 p.m. Interment services will be private. It has been requested that in lieu of flowers contributions may be made in Eric's memory to the Arthritis Foundation MA Chapter, Inc., 29 Crafts St., Chatham Center, Newton, MA 02458. ## Elizabeth L. Silvers Pioneering Nurse at Winchester Hospital; Head Nurse and Supervisor

KINGSTON, NH - Elizabeth L. (Kelso) Silvers "Betty", age 89, of Kingston, NH, formerly of Wilmington, MA, died peacefully on January 5, 2013 at The Edgewood Center in Portsmouth, NH.

Elizabeth was born on August 20, 1923 in Fort Wayne, Indiana. She was the daughter of the late Newton and Dorothy (Lidoff) Kelso. Betty was raised and educated in Indiana. She attended St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing where she earned her Diploma in Nursing and became a Registered Nurse. She furthered her education at Indiana University.

Elizabeth married John Phillip "Jack" Silvers in November 1945. Together the couple shared 64 years of marriage and raised a beautiful family before his passing in April 2010.

Betty and Jack lived in Lafayette, IN while Jack continued his studies at Purdue University, then moved for a number of years to Park Forest, IL. Employment opportunities brought them to Wilmington, MA where they resided for nearly 50 years until retiring to Kingston, NH in 2000 to be closer to family.

After her graduation, Betty worked as a Medical-Surgical Nurse at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ft. Wayne, IN until she took time off to raise her family. During her hiatus from nursing, among her many activities, she taught nursery school at Stepping Stones in Wilmington, where she thoroughly enjoyed working with the children. In 1966, Betty returned to her passion of Nursing, took a refresher course at Massachusetts General and then took a position at the Winchester Hospital. She worked in the Medical-Surgical Unit, Intensive Care, was promoted to Head Nurse and Nursing Supervisor all before retiring in 1985. Betty's recent education and quick response earned her the distinction of being the first person at Winchester Hospital to resuscitate a cardiac arrest victim by defibrillator. Her compassion for her patients and her dedication to her profession were unwavering. She was a pioneer in the field and opened many doors for the next generation of nurses.

Betty will be fondly remembered for her talents in needlework, arts, and crafts; her many creations were shared with family and friends and will be treasured always.

She will also be remembered for her "athletic ability"; at the young age of 40 she reluctantly learned to ski, but grew to love it so much that she helped teach her grandchildren to ski as well. She was an avid golfer and kept active bowling when there was too much snow to golf. She enjoyed snorkeling and sailing in Bermuda with her family and friends.

Betty was a woman of great faith and a long standing member of the First Congregational Church in Wilmington, MA. She was very active in the church teaching Sunday School and being the Sunday School Superintendent for many years. She was a youth ministry volunteer and was active in the Women's Group, then known as the Ladies' Benevolent Society, where she chaired the "North Branch."

Her giving and kindness stretched far beyond her family and friends. She took on the responsibility as Salvation Army Annual Appeal Chairperson for several years and helped countless families in need. Elizabeth was always giving of her time and talents, volunteering whenever needed and helping anyone and everyone she could.

Betty had a wonderful wit and could see the humor in almost any situation. She had great spirit of adventure, always ready and willing to participate in whatever was going on. Yet she was the calm in a storm. She was very kind and nurturing, with a soft spot for children and the elderly, however family was first and foremost; her devotion and love for her family were unconditional. She was truly a wonderful wife, mother, grandmother, and great grandmother who will be greatly missed. Her endearing personality, kindness and generosity will never be forgotten by those whose lives she has touched.

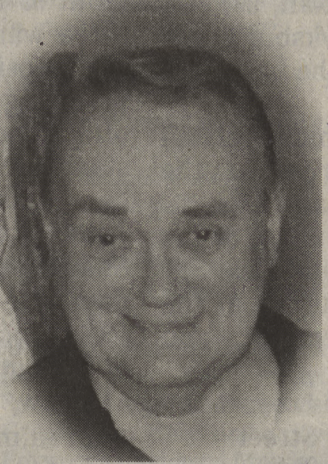

Elizabeth was the beloved wife of the late John P. "Jack" Silvers, devoted mother of Cheryl J. S. Park and J. Thomas Silvers both of Kingston, NH, and the late Terry A. Silvers, loving grandmother of William Park, Jr., Bradly Park, and Maegan Silvers, great-grandmother of Nathan Diffin, dear daughter of the late Newton and Dorothy (Lidoff) Kelso, sister of Charles Kelso of Michigan, Mary Hemsuth of Indiana, and the late Ruth Beikus, Alfred, Francis, and James Kelso. Elizabeth is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Visiting hours were held at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington on Sunday, January 20th from 1:00 - 3:00 p.m. immediately followed by a funeral home service at 3:00 p.m. Memorial donations in Elizabeth's name may be made to the Alzheimer's Association, 311 Arsenal St., Watertown, MA 02472.

Glenroy E. Taylor Veteran, and Raytheon retiree; 80

TEWKSBURY - Glenroy E. "Roy" Taylor, age 80, passed away peacefully on Wednesday, January 9, 2013. He was the husband of Evelyn A. (MacDonald) Taylor, with who he had celebrated a 60th wedding anniversary this past July 11th.

Roy was born in Cambridge, MA, in 1932, a son of the late Arthur and Helen Taylor, and graduated from Cambridge Latin High School. He enlisted into the U.S. Army and served during the Korean War. He was a long time resident of Tewksbury, and the E.N. Rogers VA Hospital in Bedford. Roy worked as a photographer for Raytheon Company at the Burlington, MA facility for many years. He loved life and enjoyed fishing, going to the beach, playing cards, and talking to people. During his years at the Bedford VA, he made many friends and was a regular at the Bingo games and at any events that took place at the hospital. He was also a life member of the Woburn B.P.O. Elks. He loved attending Mass every Sunday. Roy will be missed very much by his family and friends and the staff and his friends at the Bedford VA Hospital.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two daughters and sons-in-law, Brenda and George Varitimos of Hampton Beach, NH, Jane and Edward Charity of Windham, NH; two sons and daughters-in-law, Glen and Patricia (Audette) Taylor of Watertown, NY and David and Diane (McCormick) Taylor of Tewksbury; eight grandchildren; seven great grandchildren; two brothers; two sisters; and many nieces and nephews.

Relatives and friends will be received Friday morning, Jan. 11, from 9:30 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. in the Tewksbury Funeral Home, corner of 1 Dewey and 975 Main Sts. (Rte 38) Tewksbury Center, phone (800 in MA or 978) 851 2950. Her Funeral Mass will follow on Friday at 11:30 a.m. in St. William's Church, 1351 Main St. (Rte 38) Tewksbury. Burial will follow at Tewksbury Cemetery. Flowers will be gratefully accepted or donations may be made in Roy's name to the Edith Norse Rogers Memorial VA Hospital, Attn: Volunteer Services, 200 Springs Road, Bedford, MA 01730. ## Wilmington Special Education Parent Workshop

WILMINGTON - Wilmington Special Education Parent Advisory Council (SEPAC) invites parents, guardians and other interested parties to attend a workshop on Thursday, January 17, 2013, from 6:30-8:00 p.m. at the Wilmington High School Library, 159 Church Street, Wilmington.

Presented by a representative from the Family TIES, of Massachusetts, this workshop is an interactive presentation to gain a better understanding of Family Ties of Massachusetts' mission and activities, and how we offer assistance and support to families of children with special needs and the professionals working with them. Family TIES staff offers information about community resources and practical tips, as well as emotional support for parents enjoying our common experience - parenting a child with special needs. If you plan to attend this workshop, it would be helpful (but not necessary) if you call the Special Education Department (978-694-6032) by January 16 or send an email to fjbrien@gmail.com, so we will have a sufficient number of handouts available. For more information about Wilmington SEPAC, go to <http://www.wilmington.k12.ma.us/SEPAC.htm>

Reading Co-operative Bank supports Reading Steeple and Bell Tower Preservation Fund

READING- Reading Co-operative Bank, which has been a part of the Reading community for 127 years, has donated to help repair and maintain the Steeple Bell Tower of the Old South United Methodist Church in Reading, a local historic icon.

The mission of the Reading Steeple and Bell Tower Preservation Fund Committee is to raise the necessary funds to repair the steeple and bell tower of the church. Over the years, there has developed a serious need for repair and reconstruction of the steeple and bell tower and increasing safety concerns associated with the structure. The committee includes not only members of the church, but also compassionate volunteers from the town.

"The steeple and bell tower at Old South have served as a Reading landmark for nearly 200 years. At this time, there are critical repairs required to restore and preserve the structure. On behalf of the Steeple Fund, we would like to thank Reading Co-operative Bank for its generous donation. We are thankful for businesses and individuals who share our concern for preserving Reading's beloved landmark, and we encourage those who have not already done so to join us in our effort," says Nancy Chloodian, Co-chair for the Reading Steeple and Bell Tower Preservation Fund Committee.

"Reading Co-operative Bank is pleased to support the Old South Methodist Church in their efforts to raise funds to repair the Steeple and Bell Tower. The bank and the church have a connection as the bank founders held their very first meeting in the church," says Sandy Convery, Assistant Vice President and Reading Branch Manager.

Reading Co-operative Bank is a dynamic, 21st-century community bank, founded in 1886 on the principle that profit and growth go hand-in-hand with responsible banking and service to the community. They are a 5-star bank that is rated in the top 7% of banks in the country for overall financial condition by Bauer Financial. Customer Service Specialists can be reached at 781.942.5000, readingcoop.com or by visiting one of the locations in Reading, North Reading, Wilmington, Woburn and now in Andover and Burlington.

 Hope & Healing Through Education

GriefTeach is a grief education and consulting service for the bereaved and those who care about them. Our goal is to empower others to understand the nature of grief and how "good grief" leads to healing. We offer unique programs in a variety of styles and formats that address all types of loss ranging from the death of a loved one to job loss, divorce, illness, and losses that come with growing up and growing older.

Founder and Owner, Cheryl Amari, has a Master's degree in Pastoral Counseling and is Certified in Thanatology from the Association for Death Education and Counseling. She has been an educator for the past fifteen years, and is known for her creative, informative, and entertaining presentations that often have participants laughing and crying at the same time!

Cheryl will be the guest speaker at the Chamber breakfast on January 22 with the topic, "How to Talk to a Bereaved Client, Customer, or Patient." She will also be facilitating a workshop entitled, "Women's Lives; Women's Losses: How to Cope with Change and Transition" at the Wilmington Panera on Saturday, January 26 from 2 - 4pm. To register for this event, contact Cheryl at griefteach@aol.com or 978-457-3040.

For more information about GriefTeach please visit www.griefteach.com. If you are interested in hosting one of our programs, or would like to be notified of upcoming presentations, call or email Cheryl. Mention you are a Chamber Member and receive 20% off any program in 2013!

Some of our most recent presentations include:

- * Understanding the Needs of Grieving Students
- * Cyber-Grieving: A Modern Way to Mourn?
- * Life After Chemo: Examining Losses Related to Cancer after Treatment
- * Using Books to Discuss Loss and Grief with Children
- * Exploring the Unique Grief of a Caregiver

Taylor King to wed Timothy Donovan

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard King of Tewksbury, Mass. proudly announce the engagement of their daughter, Taylor Ann King to Timothy Patrick Donovan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Donovan of Orange.

The couple met at their alma mater, the University of Massachusetts Lowell.

A November 2013 wedding is planned.

Microchip Your Pet

NORTH READING - Create a forever bond between you and the pet you love - with a HomeAgain Microchip. Together with HomeAgain's recovery system, you'll give your lost pet the best chance of coming back home.

How Micro Chipping Works.

Dog and cat micro-chipping is a simple procedure. A veterinarian simply injects a microchip about the size of a grain of rice beneath the surface of your pet's skin. Similar to a routine shot, microchipping takes only a few seconds and your pet will not react any more than if it was a vaccination.

The microchip is a permanent pet ID and will last the life of your pet. It is read by passing a microchip scanner over your pet's back. If your pet gets lost and is taken to an animal shelter or veterinarian, they will scan the microchip to read its unique ID code. This is the number used to identify your pet and contact information, which is used to reunite you and your pet.

Pet owners are invited to North Reading Subaru on Saturday, Jan. 19 from 10 am to 2 pm. The HomeAgain pet Microchip is $20 and the event includes $5.00 pet nail trims, meet and greet cats up for adoption through Lots of Love Cat Rescue, and raffles and prizes.

The event is sponsored by North Reading Subaru, Harbor Veterinary House Calls, Leash Love, and Lots of Love Cat Rescue.

MassDEP Seeks Public Comment on Proposed Solid Waste Management, Asbestos Air Quality Regulation Reforms

Public Hearings to be held Jan. 23 in Wilmington

BOSTON - The Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (MassDEP) will hold public hearings starting next week on the first two of 21 proposals to streamline and reform its regulations. The first two draft regulations would modify the Solid Waste Management Facility regulations and the asbestos requirements contained in the Air Quality regulations.

These proposals are among several that are being undertaken to strategically manage the budget cuts MassDEP has suffered in recent years and to expand upon the successful efforts launched by MassDEP in 2007 to streamline certain permitting and appeals processes.

The public hearings are scheduled for:

- Thursday, January 17 at 5 p.m. - MassDEP Central Regional Office, 627 Main St., Worcester
- Wednesday, January 23 at 5 p.m. - MassDEP Northeast Regional Office, 205B Lowell St., Wilmington
- Thursday, January 24 at 5 p.m. - Holyoke Community College, 303 Homestead Ave., Holyoke

The proposed changes to the Solid Waste regulations would: streamline aspects of MassDEP permitting for transfer stations, certain post-closure uses at closed landfills, and management of "Special Wastes"; standardize and expand the use of third-party inspections and reviews at solid waste management facilities; and standardize certain other requirements that have traditionally been dealt with in facility permits. The proposed regulations and background information are available on MassDEP's web site at: <http://www.mass.gov/dep/service/regulations/newregs.htm#swreg>

The proposed changes to the Air Quality regulations would streamline asbestos abatement work practices, operation and maintenance procedures, and homeowner requirements. These revisions would also align asbestos removal work practice requirements with those of the Massachusetts Department of Labor Standards and make the regulations clearer and more consistent with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's asbestos standards. Under these revisions, MassDEP is proposing to exempt owners of single-family homes that they occupy from the requirement to notify the agency 10 days in advance of projects that they conduct in their own homes and that involve only non-friable asbestos. The proposed regulations are available on the MassDEP website at:

<http://www.mass.gov/dep/>

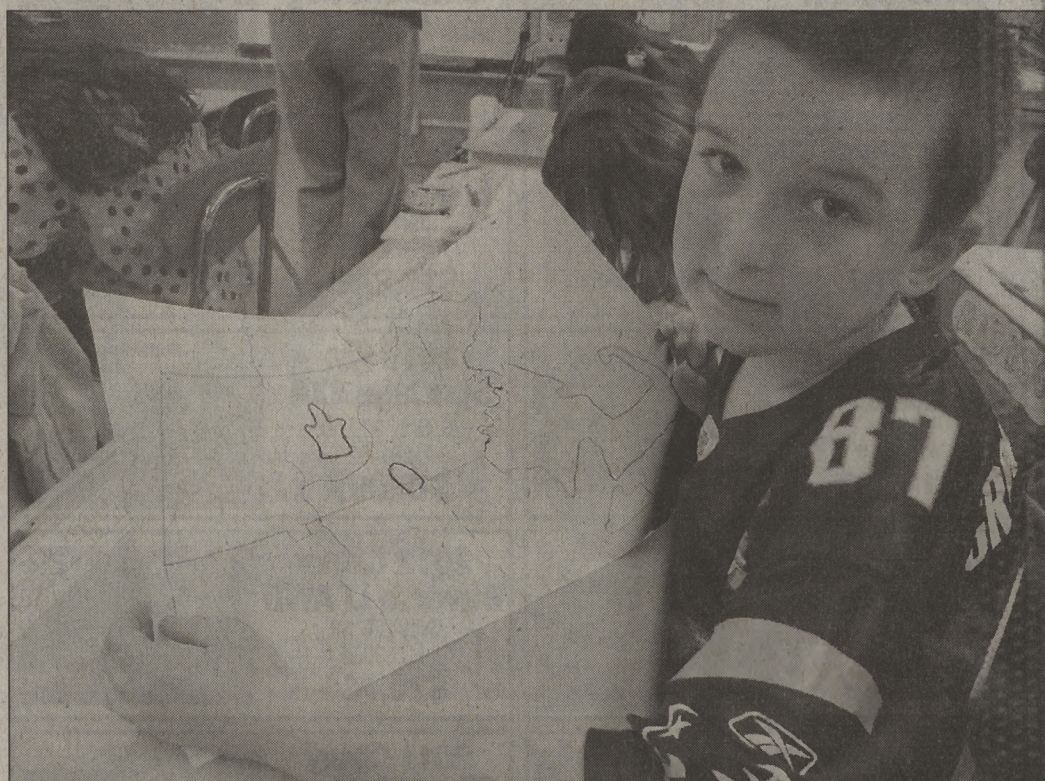

service/regulations/newregs.htm#asdrag

The public comment period for both sets of regulations will be open until Friday, February 8, 2013 at 5 p.m. Comments on the proposed amendments may be e-mailed to:

james.doucett@state.ma.us or mailed to: James Doucett, Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection, Bureau of Waste Prevention, 1 Winter St., Boston, MA 02108.

For more information on MassDEP's Regulatory Reform Initiative (including a complete list of all of the projects that are part of the initiative), turn to: <http://www.mass.gov/dep/about/priorities/regreform.htm>

MassDEP is responsible for ensuring clean air and water, safe management and recycling of solid and hazardous wastes, timely cleanup of hazardous waste sites and spills, and the preservation of wetlands and coastal resources.

Money Matters Series

Raising Financially Responsible Children (RR)

Tuesday, January 22, 7 pm
How do you help your children understand money and begin practices that will serve them well as they move toward adulthood? Financial consultants Caleb Harty and Timothy Power will address this topic in a presentation based on the New York Times Bestseller, Money Doesn't Grow on Trees: A Parent's Guide to Raising Financially Responsible Children, by renowned family and children's finance expert, Neale S. Godfrey. Come learn about your own financial personality and hear about strategies for introducing financial responsibility to children, from age three to teens. Through the sponsorship of New York Life Insurance Company, a 25-page booklet, "It's Common Cents: Money Tips and Tools for Kids and Their Parents," written by Neale Godfrey, will be distributed to program attendees.

Looking at the Big Picture (RR)

Thursday, January 24, 7pm
Is all the talk about the economy confusing to you? Come hear Margo Ranger, a Senior Portfolio Manager at PW Global, describe the investment climate that forms the determinative backdrop for financial markets, risk analysis, and decision-making: economic, geopolitical, and monetary factors that create or discourage the growth of business, the consequent attractiveness of stocks vs. bonds vs. hard assets, the appeal of investing in foreign entities, currency fluctuation, inflation, and deflation, the impact of debt accumulation, and the outlook for our investment climate as we go forward under a new Administration in 2013.

Foreign Film Series Foreign Letters (USA) (RR)

Monday, Jan. 28, 6:30 pm
Ellie, a 12-year-old immigrant girl from Israel, is lonely and homesick. Life brightens when she meets Thuy, a Vietnamese refugee her age. Trust slowly builds as the two teach each other about life in America. As Ellie and Thuy become inseparable, they eventually hurt and betray each other. Ellie must give up her most prized possession in order to save their friendship. Based on the filmmaker's own experience, Foreign Letters is a story about prejudice, poverty, shame, and the power of friendship to heal us.

Vasermil (Israel) (RR)

Monday, Feb. 11, 6:30 pm
Named after the local soccer stadium in the Southern Israeli town of Beer Sheba, Vasermil tells the story of three teenagers from separate marginalized communities, who pin their hopes on soccer as a way out. Shlomi, Adiel, and Dima are recruited by the coach of the local soccer team to take part in the Beersheba Youth Championship, held on Independence Day at the Vasermil Stadium. Success at the tournament means getting noticed by the scouts of the local soccer empire, Hapoel Beersheba. In order to win, Shlomi, Adiel, and Dima, each with his own set of adversities, will have to learn to play as a team and overcome their differences.

Teen Events

Working Teens: Job-Hunting and Applications (RR)

Tuesday, January 29, 3 pm
What parts of a job application do you need to fill in? How do you dress for an interview? What can you do to improve your chances of landing the job you want? Ryan Gallagan of Career Source, a division of Massachusetts One-Stop Career Center System, will be here to talk to teens in grades 8-12 about finding—and getting—jobs.

Crafty Teens Workshop: Pop-Up Cards (RR)

As part of MEPA process...

Stalled ‘Ledges’ project sees signs of life

Developer still amidst process of filing legal challenge of city’s denial

By PATRICK BLAIS
Daily Times Chronicle

WOBURN - Ward 6 Alderman Michael Raymond in North Woburn recently criticized the head of a state environmental agency for clearing the path for the developers of the legally-stalled Ledges at Woburn project to obtain state permits.

Currently, representatives from Woburn’s The Dolben Company have vowed to challenge the city’s Oct. 11 denial of the 168-unit unit apartment complex in North Woburn to the Mass. Housing Appeals Committee (HAC).

That leaves the controversial Ledges at Woburn project dead in the water, unless the HAC acts in the developers’ favor.

However, under a Dec. 21 decision rendered by Richard Sullivan, the secretary for the Commonwealth’s Executive Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs (EOEEA), The Dolben Company could move quickly to obtain state permits for the affordable housing project, should the developer prevail.

“I am disappointed in your decision not to further review the Ledges at Woburn project,” wrote Raymond last weekend to Sullivan. “I, along with the hundreds of residents who will be impacted over the next four years, believe that this project will severely impact our health, safety and welfare.”

In a decision heralded by North Woburn abutters, the city’s Zoning Board of Appeals last fall refused to grant a comprehensive permit to the petitioners for the 168-unit apartment complex after concluding that associated construction activity will unduly burden neighbors.

City officials and local residents alike are particularly concerned with plans to blast and cart away 357,000 to 418,000 cubic yards of fill from the site, an approximate 9-acre parcel of land at 1042 Main Street that contains significant ledge outcroppings.

The elevated terrain, which stands 225-feet above Main Street at its highest point, would be leveled to a height of 170-feet, based upon submissions by the applicant.

According to the petitioner, blasting alone would take as long as a year, and about 120 truck trips would be coming to and from the site daily during that period to cart the debris away.

MEPA DECISION
Under the Mass. Environmental Policy Act (MEPA), developers must file paperwork with the EOEEA before obtaining state permits, in instances where a particular project exceeds certain thresholds related to traffic, stormwater discharge, and other factors.

Late last November, the developer acknowledged that the Ledges project, proposed to be constructed near the Wilmington-line, qualified for MEPA review.

In particular, the affordable housing project will generate 1,142 new vehicle trips along local and state roadways, including Main Street/Route 38, and entail the creation of 300 or more new parking spaces in a single location.

Sullivan also concluded that because The Dolben Company will receive state assistance for the development under the state’s affordable housing or Chapter 40B guidelines, his agency also retains jurisdiction over the project due to potential impacts to nearby wetlands, and because the petitioner needs state permits to connect to existing stormwater system infrastructure.

However, the Presidential Way firm contended in its paperwork that it had addressed those impacts through a series of proposed mitigation measures, negating the need for the submission of an environmental impact report.

In that report, The Dolben Company would have been required to submit comprehensive data and information on how it intended to mitigate those impacts, and the general public would have had an opportunity to submit its own comments on whether it agreed that those measures were sufficient.

In his Dec. 21, 2012 decision, the EOEEA secretary agreed with the petitioner’s conclusion and waived the need for further study.

However, Sullivan did stipulate that should substantial changes to the Ledges at Woburn project be instituted as a result of the HAC deliberations, further action may be warranted.

“I am satisfied that any outstanding issues pertaining to traffic, stormwater management, and blasting can be addressed through the state and local permitting process,” the EOEEA secretary ruled.

“If the project is further revised as a result of the HAC review process, the proponent must contact the MEPA office to determine if a Notice of Project Change will be required to be submitted.”

In his recent letter to Sullivan, Raymond questioned whether the secretary had properly considered the impact of the proposed blasting work, particularly given the property’s location amidst a residential neighborhood.

Specifically, the alderman referenced the developer’s plans to crush blasted ledge on site, “condoning” the creation of a “quarry operation,” as well as the fact that the property is only accessible through a single site driveway — creating the potential for gridlock along Main Street as trucks enter and exit the property.

“I feel your most important consideration during your review of this project should have been the 44 abutting properties to the proposed project, including, two elementary schools, a day care center, [Ferullo Field], and senior housing,” Raymond maintained.

“Over the past 15 months, we have attended 30 meetings. During these meetings, we heard from abutters who shared their health concerns and issues. These concerns and issues were sent to you in comment letters and were not properly addressed by you in your report,” the alderman furthered.

Even if the HAC was to overturn the ZBA’s decision denying the Ledges at Woburn proposal, local officials are quite likely to continue the battle by bringing further appeals to higher courts.

The land in question has been the source of development controversy and prolonged legal wrangling long before the Ledges at Woburn proposal was brought before the city in Sept. of 2012.

Local developer Anthony Santullo, who sold his rights to the development, pitched a protracted legal battle for years against the city over the site before the state’s highest court ruled in his favor in 2006.

Construction Cometh

gency, will be implemented in the public schools.

Benton noted that many students’ lives were saved in Newtown because teachers were properly trained on how to handle the situation. “What the program is really about is giving adults the ability to make quick decisions in the case of a shooter coming in to the school,” Benton said.

She said the program is an improvement to the current safety protocols. For example, when classrooms are hypothetically put in lockdown mode, teachers and students will be informed that a shooter has entered the school and where he or she is in the building. This way, Benton said, staff can know the best course of action—to hide or evacuate.

The school department is arranging for a public meeting to take place on March 7 to discuss with residents how the program works.

Benton also noted that she looked into the costs associated with bulletproof glass for school windows and doors. At approximately $220 per square foot—meaning an average-sized glass front door would cost upwards of $90,000 to protect—she said that it was just not an appropriate project for the district. She did, however, add that shatterproof glass is a more cost-effective substitute.

“I think we all struggle with ‘how do we find the balance between providing a safe building for our staff and students without building a fortress?’ Because our schools are not fortresses, they aren’t meant to be. I think we just do our best,” Benton said.

MacDonald will no longer be recognized at Selectmen meetings when public comment is requested, Newhouse referenced concern for the safety of the public—presumably because of MacDonald's disruptions to the meetings.

Although denied the opportunity to comment, the Wilmington High School project update is an agenda item that MacDonald has been close to in the past. Although MacDonald's appeal has since been dismissed, another appellant who abuts the school is pursuing an appeal to superior court. The series of appeals that have taken place has, to say the least, created discontent among many town officials and residents.

At the School Committee meeting on January 9, Superintendent Joanne Benton announced that the gymnasium would be demolished during February vacation, regardless of the pending appeal. During Monday's meeting, Newhouse announced that the project as a whole will go out to bid to subcontractors on January 24. To wait any longer, the board agreed, would be irresponsible with taxpayers' money. The project cost has increased notably since the appeals began.

"I think we're all on the same page. We want to make sure the high school project continues. Time and money—that's what it comes down to," said Selectmen Michael McCoy.

Newhouse noted that most of the appeals have discounted the previous order of conditions (or conditional permit for construction), essentially putting a stop to the process. However, the most recent decision made by the DEP commissioner still stands despite the current appeal, hence why the town is allowed to move forward. Reference to the current and past appellants being against a new high school project sparked resident George Lingenfelter, former leader of the Ten Resident Group, to speak up. He wanted it clarified that he, personally, was not against the project itself, but rather the proposal for the project and some very specific environmental concerns.

"It wasn't about being hateful and fighting the high school," Lingenfelter said. Newhouse responded that the DEP commissioners involved in the appeal reviews were extremely qualified to review and approve the project.

Throughout the whole meeting, reference to concern for public safety in light of recent violent events—presumably the Newtown, CT elementary school shooting—was made. At one heated moment, Selectmen Louis Cimaglia referred to MacDonald as a "little man", and then questioned if MacDonald had made a violent hand gesture toward him.

In his new business report, Selectmen Michael Champoux pointed out that the meeting was the first time the group had met since the tragic shooting and that those grieving in Connecticut were in his thoughts.

The Board of Selectmen went into executive session at the conclusion of the meeting to discuss eminent domain in relation to WHS.

Ms. Johnson goes to Washington

in political activism. She fondly remembers their "Facing History and Ourselves" class, which inspired her to make changes in the world.

"Erica's evolution from a quiet student during her junior year to social activist has been so exciting to watch," Tucker proudly said of her former student. "She has the intellect and skills necessary to become a force of positive change in her community. I hope that she never forgets the energy and excitement of the inauguration...Erica is an upstander in every sense of the word and I can't wait to see what she does next!"

The trip for Johnson and her classmates will be brief: they leave January 19th and return on the 22nd. In addition to the College Democrats, a few non-members and Republicans will be joining Johnson on the bus ride to the Capital. "We're staying 20 minutes outside of DC - in Virginia. It's the only place that had space left for 20 people," she said. On her list of people she hopes to see: Senator Elizabeth Warren. "I would love to see her. We met during a college event in Fall River, Massachusetts, and I'm very impressed with her," she said. The Senator met everyone in Johnson's group. "She made such an effort to shake our hands individually and learn what we do in school. I think she's going to do wonderful things for our state."

After graduation, Johnson has her sights set on the State House. "I'm currently interning with our State Rep. Jim Miceli," she said. "Down the line, I hope to run for office - the State Senate - then work my way up to become the next Elizabeth Warren."

Hockey teams could make deep post-season runs

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

It's been a while since I've written a column. The big reason it's been a pretty crazy last few months here at the paper since the sports department is down to basically two of us, myself and Mike Ippolito, and the occasional column from Cookie, so finding time to write columns and is tough - and add to that a bout of bronchitis. The same goes with our 'Dropping the Gloves' segment - perhaps you the readers don't want to hear arguments every week from myself and Ippolito, especially since I kick his rear end everytime.

Since it's just two of us here in the department, we are looking for help, so if you are looking for a part-time position, or an internship, feel free to email me at: jamiapote@hotmail.com.

So enough with that in-house boring stuff, let's turn to our attention to some of the high school sports. We can start with hockey. This past week was a lot of fun watching the Wilmington High Boys Hockey team defeat the defending Division 1 state champs Burlington before putting on a great show and losing to the two-time Division 1A, Super-8 champs, Malden Catholic, who played without their top two players who were suspended. Yet, Wilmington really skated with them all night and played a tremendous hockey game before the Lancers scored the game winner with less than three minutes to go in the game.

The Wildcats are now 8-2 with the loss, and still have three of the top 20 ranked teams left on their schedule in the latest ESPN.com/Boston poll with Reading (6), Winchester (12) and Arlington (19) as well as tough non-leagues games with Acton-Boxboro and Tewksbury.

I saw the Redmen against North Andover and was very impressed. If they play like that against opponents the rest of the way they will be very tough to beat - between being an extremely fast and physical team, Tewksbury can be explosive with its offense and not just with the Petti Brothers - their line-up is steep.

The Redmen will have a huge test this week facing the No. 22 ranked Lincoln-Sudbury Warriors twice in a matter of five days, first away Wednesday with results not known as of presstime and then home on Monday afternoon.

Both Wilmington and Tewksbury have outstanding chances of going very far in the state tournament once again. Wilmington won the state title last year and Tewksbury the year before, and it looks like those two teams along with Beverly are the top three dogs come state tournament time. You can never count out Newburyport, but whenever you play the Clippers, as long as you play smart hockey, they'll find a way to get chippy and lose the game.

Perhaps both Wilmington and Tewksbury have a chance to go very far, not only because of their talent, but because of their schedule. When the tournament comes, Wilmington will have faced six teams in the top 25 according to the ESPN.com/Boston current poll, and that doesn't include Burlington or Tewksbury. Tewksbury will have faced three teams, Chelmsford, Lincoln-Sudbury twice and Wilmington. Mark your calendars for that Wildcat-Redmen game on February 20th - will be an awesome battle for sure.

So speaking of tournaments, rumor has it that many opposing teams are making a stink for Wilmington to be moved up to Division 1 starting next year with the new alignment. Apparently, the 'Cats terrific record and the thought that they face many Division 1 schools already make them candidates to be moved up according to other coaches, but if the MIAA approves this change, it'll just show how much of a farce the organization really is. I mean, really, Wilmington with the few hundred boys they have in the hallways, belongs with schools like Chelmsford, Billerica, Westford, Acton-Boxboro and Central Catholic? Absolutely not. Wilmington belongs in Division 2 in hockey and in every other sport - with the exception of track, cross-country and golf - whether it's soccer, softball or hoop.

Speaking of hoop, it's been a tough first half for all four local teams. All four have losing records including the two Wilmington teams sporting just two wins each. The Tewksbury Boys have been the surprise with the 4-6 record and certainly they can pile up a handful of wins the second half of the season with two games with Dracut and Billerica and one game each with Bedford and Wilmington as those four teams have six combined wins.

It's amazing though, in the latest ESPN.com/Boston poll, four of the top 10 teams in the state come from the Merrimack Valley Conference with Central (1), Andover (7), North Andover (8) and Lowell (10).

The same basically goes on the girls side - Billerica (6), North Andover (7), Central (9) and Andover (18) are four of the top teams in the state. The Redmen are 3-7 overall but can make up some ground in the second half with two games against Dracut and Lawrence and one game each with Haverhill and Chelmsford, who they split with thus far.

I saw Tewksbury play Chelmsford on Friday night and yes, Tewksbury really struggles offensively. I have two small suggestions - one stop dribbling so much and just rotate the ball, make cuts and find the open player, and two Shannon Semenza needs to shoot the ball more - she has a pretty decent outside shot and needs to avoid being gun-shy.

Turning to some thoughts on the professional level, is it me or watching a Celtics game - or any NBA game for that matter - as painful as listening to Kevin MacDonald at any town meeting in Wilmington? First of all, listening to Tommy gets old - criticizing every single call. Then when play is actually going on, three things happen - a slam dunk, a three-pointer or a foul. Talk about hitting the snooze button again and again.

I think I may be the only one excited about this year's Red Sox squad. I'm not sold on Johnny Gomes and some of the acquisitions, and the team still doesn't have a dominant, ten-strikeout per game kind of starting pitcher, but what the team does have is a pretty good line-up and the potential of having an outstanding bullpen.

If the Sox can get one or both, Andrew Bailey and Daniel Bard back to 2011 form, the bullpen could easily help this team back into the playoffs. Now all you need is Buchholz, Dempster and those guys get into the sixth inning and you turn the ball over to the middle guys of Aceves and the lefties, Breslow, Miller and Morales before the eighth inning guys of Bailey, Bard and Uehara and this could be a lights out bullpen which is so instrumental in teams winning and losing.

I'm not sold on the Blue Jays being the clear No. 1 team and I think the Yankees and Rays have taken a step back. Then you have the Orioles - who yes last year has a lights out pen - so I think the division is wide open.

Baseball is still ways off from starting, so until then this weekend should be a lot of fun with the Bruins starting their season on Saturday and the Pats playing the Ravens on Sunday for the AFC Championship title game. Thankfully DVR helps me out with the Bruins game, but I'll be on a couch on Sunday for the football game. This one again will be close - Baltimore always plays the Pats tough. I look for a 27-23 victory for New England and the Pats defense coming up with a late touchdown to seal the victory.

For the fourth straight time this season, the trio of Kelly Hartsough, Jackie Parece and Katelyn Richardson have swept their opponents in the 1,000 meter race, a very impressive achievement. The three of them did it again Tuesday afternoon in a meet against Wakefield held at the Harvard University Track. For details on the meet, please turn inside.

Fall to Malden Catholic in thriller

Boys Hockey team skates with two-time 1A champs until the end

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

MALDEN - In a matter of six days, the Wilmington High School Boys Hockey team defeated the defending Division 1 North finalist in Wakefield 5-1, defeated the reigning Division 1 state champions Burlington, 3-1, and then matched up with the two-time Super 8 Champions Malden Catholic on Monday night and came away with a 4-3 loss in a tremendous back-and-forth high school hockey game.

Before the season started Wilmington amped up its non-league schedule with the addition of MC as well as Acton-Boxboro later on in the season, and in the tilt with the Lancers, Wilmington proved it could play with the best of them, as the game was deadlocked at 3-3 until MC scored the game winner with 2:28 to go.

The loss snaps Wilmington's eight game winning streak - after losing the team's season opener to Woburn - and puts the 'Cats at 8-2-0 overall. As for MC - who played without its two top players Casey Fitzgerald, the son of former Boston Bruin forward Tom Fitzgerald, and Mike Iovanna who were both suspended for two games - they won for the first time since December 22 after going 0-2-3 in its last five games competing the toughest conference in the state.

"It was a great game," said head coach Steve Scanlon, who saw senior forward Dylan DiNatale score all three goals for the hat trick. "I was happy with the performance. The turnovers hurt us. You're playing against a team with more skill so when you turn the puck over, you pay the price for it. It's not like you get lucky against a team like that. I know giving up the go-ahead goal was a tough one but it was the other two goals that really hurt us - both on turnovers.

"We also gave up the goal off the face-off and that was lack of coverage. We are next to him but we didn't take away his hands or his stick and he did the right thing and just whacked at it and it went in. They have a lot of weapons. Defensively without Fitzgerald they aren't as deep but with him they are loaded defensively."

MC head coach John McLean said afterwards to the Boston Herald that the Wildcats did indeed play a terrific game from start to finish.

"We haven't found our identity yet," he said. "We are young and we are still trying to figure out who we are. It has been a struggle but give the kids credit. We played terrible and Wilmington played well, but I'll take the win because we haven't won in a long time."

Previous to facing Wilmington, Malden Catholic ended in ties with both BC High and Austin Prep and also were defeated by Catholic Memorial and St. John's Prep, and despite the struggles of getting into the win column, the Lancers are still ranked as the No. 6 team in all of Eastern Mass in the latest Herald Poll, while the 'Cats are the No. 2 ranked team in Division 2 North, trailing the unbeaten Beverly squad.

"I'm happy with the effort," said Scanlon. "I was interested to see if it was really a big reach for us to play a team like this. The one thing we can do is skate, and skating is huge when you play a team like this. I'm proud of the way we played. We came to play. The kids really didn't play nervous. Maybe a little bit early but that's expected."

"I thought the kids played tough the whole game and obviously Dylan had the big night. That second line played very well. Cam (Owens) and Brendan (McDonough) both had some chances and we had some shots - we had it 25-25 in shots so we had our chances. We were right there with them. That was the test is we wanted to see if we could go with teams like that. All in all it was a good night for us."

Wilmington carried the overall play in the first period taking a 1-0 lead and holding a 10-6 advantage in shots. With 4:35 to go in the period, DiNatale scored his first of three goals on the night as his linemates displayed great passing starting from Cody McGowan to Luke Foley to DiNatale, who buried the puck with a wrist shot to the top corner giving the 'Cats the surprising 1-0 lead.

The Lancers tied the game up just 3:30 into the second period. With a face-off to the left of goalie Drew Foley, MC center Aza Nazarian won the draw with the puck going to his left to winger Austin Goldstein who quickly whacked at the puck which went past Foley immediately and the game was tied up at 1-1.

Less than two minutes later, Wilmington took the lead again as McGowan received a long pass from one side of the boards to the other and he came streaking into the zone putting on a nice inside move before his shot was saved and followed up by DiNatale who buried the rebound giving Wilmington the 2-1 lead.

But MC came back scoring two goals in a span of 2:01 the first as Ryan Sifferlan intercepted a pass and went in alone while shorthanded, and then they added a power play goal on tremendous passing making it 3-2 after two periods.

MC controlled most of the play in the third period holding a 9-2 advantage in shots but Wilmington did tie the game up just 5:16 into the frame as DiNatale pounced on a turnover and flicked the puck again to the top corner for his hat trick and the game was tied at 3-3. But after killing off a penalty, Wilmington gave up the game winner with 2:28 to go as Silva put home a rebound off an initial shot from the point.

"If you look at the week we had it was great - we beat Wakefield and Burlington and tonight it was a 3-3 game with three minutes to go," said Scanlon. "So now we have to start another (winning) streak. We have a tough one this weekend with Arlington."

Track, Hoop and Wrestling Round-Up

Boys Track team remains perfect on the season

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

The tremendous season continued for the Wilmington High School Boys Indoor Track-and-Field team on Tuesday afternoon when the Wildcats improved to 4-0 on the season with a 54-32 thumping over Middlesex League foe Wakefield held at the Gordon Track at Harvard University.

The win now puts Wilmington in a fight for the ML Small School title with its next dual meet coming February 2nd against Burlington.

Wilmington had five individual first place finishes as well as the 4x400 relay team and those performances ended up scoring a combined 20 points to help Wilmington pull out the win. Among the first place finishes came from junior Wayne Huynh, who qualified for the state meet by clearing 5-11 in the high jump. Senior Steve Halas easily took home the mile title with a blazing time of 4:34. The other first places came from Pat Barry in the 300 (38.95), Andrew Sears in the 1,000 meters (2:47) and Jon Weaver in the shot put (40-11).

Wilmington scored 18 points with six second place finishes including Connor Townsend in the 55-meter dash with a time of 7.12 seconds. Colin Chase in the 600 (1:30.1), Peter Warren in the 1,000 (2:49), Erik Alatalo in the two mile (10:39), Eli Jennings (shot put) and Pat Barry (high jump) accounted for the other second places in their respective events.

Rounding out the scoring were third place finishers Chris Michelangelo in the 300, Brian Priem in the 55 meter hurdles, Jared Walsh in the 600, Craig Smith in the mile, Chase in the high jump and Dave Caira in the shot.

The 4x400 team consisted of Barry, Sears, Chase, and Halas and they came in with a combined time of 3:42.

Wilmington is back in action this Sunday at the Class C State Relay Meet which will be held at the Reggie Lewis Center in Roxbury.

GIRLS TRACK

The Wilmington High School Girls Indoor Track-

and-Field team got back into the win column on Tuesday with a 55-31 win over Wakefield to improve to 3-1 on the season. The highlight of the meet came in the 1,000 meters where for the fourth straight meet the trio of Kelly Hartsough (3:17), Jackie Parece (3:21) and Katelyn Richardson (3:22.5) swept the event, which included Parece and Richardson qualifying for the state meet with their times on this meet. Richardson also scored five more points with a first place in the high jump as she cleared 4-6.

Besides the 1,000 meters, Wilmington also swept the 300-meter race behind the efforts of Alex Bischoff with a state qualifying time of 43.8 seconds, Cassie Grasso and Michelle Barnes.

Other first places came from Rachel Alatalo in the 600 (1:45.5), Callie O'Connell in the mile (5:40), Devyn Malatesta in the 55-meter dash (8.1) and the 4x400 relay team with Bischoff, Grasso, Alatalo and Barnes, who had a combined time of 4:17.

Rounding out the scoring included second places from Savanna Hubbard in the hurdles and Emily Monteforte in the two mile as well as third places from Nicole Romanzo in the 600, Annie Romanzo in the two mile and Vicky Wong in the hurdles with a personal best time of 10.18 seconds.

Like the boys, the girls will be back in action on Sunday at the Class C State Relay Meet.

WRESTLING

This past weekend the Wilmington High School Wrestling team to a trip up North to Mount Union High School in Bennington, Vermont to compete in the annual Mount Anthony High School Meet, the program in which WHS coach Mike Pimental won a state championship title back during his senior year in high school.

"The tournament was loaded with talented teams and kids this year," said Pimental. We finished tenth out of sixteen teams."

The big highlight of the tournament came from junior captain Nick Troy, who finished third in the 160-pound division.

"Nick had an outstanding tournament and displayed his best wrestling yet this season. Nick wrestled very physical and technical throughout the tournament," said Pimental.

Another surprise came from Stan Dancewicz at 195 pounds. He finished with a 3-2 record in the tournament, coming one back away from placing.

"The majority of the team battled to the placement round and came one match from placing," said Pimental. "The guys continue to get better from match to match."

GIRLS HOOP

On Tuesday night, the Wilmington High School Girls' Basketball team desperately needed a victory, and they were able to achieve that goal by defeating Wakefield 39-28, on the road, which puts the team at 3-6 overall.

Head coach Jay Keane said that the team continued to struggle offensively, but in the other side, defensively he said his team played fantastic.

"I thought we did a real nice job defensively," he said. "After the third quarter we were up 27-12, so to hold a team to twelve points through three quarters is tremendous. We're still working hard, but we really needed this win. And because the league has been weird this year with a lot of teams beating each other, we're still in the thick of things in the small school race."

Senior Michelle Woods led the way with a double-double finishing with 13 points and 11 rebounds. Christa Brent had a nice effort on both ends of the court with eight points and six steals.

"(Before Tuesday) we had been struggling with getting help (defensively)," said Keane. "Teams would just penetrate down the middle and kick the ball out and we needed to get help on the weak side by sliding a girl down and we did that tonight which was a big difference."

On Friday night Wilmington fell to Melrose 52-39. Christa Brent had a big night with 15 points.

"They made sixteen free throws and that was basically the difference in that game," said Keane. "We had one bad quarter which has happened to us in every single loss. We have been stressing that we need to play for thirty-two minutes. It's not lack of effort that's for sure - the effort has been there the entire season."

Wilmington will return home for its next two games with a talented and big Burlington squad on Friday before Belmont comes to town on Tuesday. Both games begin at 7 pm.

BOYS HOOP

It's been well over 20 years since the Wilmington High School Boys Basketball team started a season out with a 2-7 record, and that's where the Wildcats are at now after dropping their fifth straight game Tuesday night to a dynamite Wakefield squad 65-36. The Warriors have a tremendous line-up, big, athletic and they all can shoot and on the flip side of it, Wilmington turned the ball over too many times and struggled offensively with both inside and outside shooting.

"We didn't play well tonight," said head coach Joe Maiella. "We worked on the 1-3-1 for forty-five minutes (Monday night at practice). Early against their 1-3-1 we were moving the ball but we got into some trouble against it. We were making some long passes and we needed to make shorter passes and come to the ball. We just ended up dribbling in traffic zones on the sides and in the corners and that really hurt us. When you face athletic kids like that, obviously doing that stuff is going to hurt you."

The teams were even for the first four minutes of the game as Wilmington led 9-8 with exactly four minutes left in the first quarter before Wakefield went on an 11-0 run and closed out the last four minutes outscoring Wilmington 15-2. That dominating stretch continued in the first few minutes of the second half as the Warriors started out on an 11-2 run making it 35-13 with 4:19 left in the second quarter.

"We have a lot of work to do and we're going to work hard every single day to get better," said Maiella. "Hopefully we will improve. Right now there's no break in our schedule. We have Burlington on Friday and they beat Wakefield so there's no break in the schedule so it's tough. But we have to stay positive and we just have to improve every day and hope that we can put together a few wins."

Senior Colin Doherty led the team offensively with nine points, while sophomore Connor Bennett finished with eight points and nine rebounds.

"Kids like Colin Doherty worked his butt off (Tuesday night)," said Maiella. "We were down 25 to 30 points and he didn't stop hustling and I can't say enough about him. He's showing leadership and I'm hoping the younger guys see this and see learn from watching him play."

On Friday Wilmington played pretty well losing to Melrose 69-51.

"I thought we played much better (than we did the previous loss) to Watertown)," said Maiella. "We were down by five points at halftime and it was a four-point game midway through the third quarter."

James Wilkinson and Zach Abbott led the way with 11 points each and Bennett chipped in with six.

"Right now we are 2-7 and it's tough just real tough," said Maiella. "We are not used too being 2-7 at this point of the season. We just got to take it day by day and just one day at a time and work on improving every day."

Fall to Burlington 6-4 at home

Despite record, Girls Hockey team continues to vastly improve

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

It's quite obvious that already this season the Wilmington High School Girls Hockey team has improved leaps and bounds. The team continues to get better every game, continues to skate much better collectively as a team and seems that positional hockey has taken to a new level.

That being said, the team played 26 very good minutes on Saturday but the first 14 minutes were extremely sloppy and Burlington took advantage of that going up 3-0. Then Wilmington put forth a great comeback to tie the game up only to see the Devils prevail with a 6-4 back-and-forth offensive victory played before the home crowd Saturday afternoon at the Ristuccia Arena.

Wilmington is now 3-8 overall with the loss, which came three days after falling to Wakefield 5-1.

"We got off to the slow start in the first period and in the first few minutes of the second period and we allowed Burlington to set the tone for the game," said Wildcat head coach Jeff Covelluzzi. "Obviously we were down three goals and we came back which was nice. I think there are a couple of things we need to fix, not only defensive stuff but basic zone entry things we need to work on. The chemistry is starting to come together and it's a process, it's not going to happen overnight."

"I'm not happy with a 6-4 loss whatsoever, but I am happy that we came back and that shows a lot of character with a team that needs to take small steps to become a winning team. They have been taking those small steps."

Burlington had the 3-0 lead scoring one goal in the first period and then adding two in a span of 1:49 in the second. But with 10:29 to go, Wilmington got on the scoreboard as junior defenseman Adrianna Kippenberger scored on a wrist shot from the point.

Then later on in the period, the 'Cats got a huge goal as Caroline Robarge put home a loose puck on an original shot taken by Chloe Castellano, as Jane Farrell also had an assist on it. But 21 seconds after Wilmington cut it to 3-2, Burlington scored to take a 4-2 lead into the locker rooms after the second intermission.

Wilmington scored the next two goals to tie the game up at 4-4. The first goal came with 10:13 to go as Colleen Good scored on a wrist shot from the point and then with 5:25 to go, Taylor Perella scored her fourth goal of the season, shorthanded off the face-off.

"Scoring four goals is huge for us," said Covelluzzi. "We had four different goals score goals today and two came from defensemen. We have been working a lot on getting our defensemen more involved in the offense and last game we had a goal from the point and today we had two, so it's great to see that we are improving on the things that we have been working on."

Burlington countered scoring two goals down the stretch, the first coming with 4:35 left and the second with 1:21 to go.

"We have to work on getting off to better starts," said Covelluzzi. "We have been stressing that we want to be the ones who set the tones in a game, and not let the other team do it. Today we were slow in the first period and the start of the second period and they set the tone. We need to have that momentum and have that tone right away. We're working on it and we just need to build on the confidence. We're going to be alright."

"We have a couple of tough games ahead against large school teams but I'm very confident that we're going to be able to skate with those teams. I think today is the start of us going in the right direction and the girls should be proud of themselves. Today wasn't successful because we didn't win the game but it was a success that we were able to comeback from a 3-0 deficit."

Kippenberger, Robarge, Goode and Perella had the goals while Katherine MacDougall picked up three assists. Good, Castellano, Farrell and Ryan Gautreau had single assists. Netminder Shelby McHugh made 27 saves in the losing effort.

Wilmington has seven games left on the schedule and four of them come against teams with losing records, while both Arlington, Winchester and Watertown are either one or two games over the .500 mark. Wilmington faced a two-win Belmont team at home on Wednesday night with results not known as of presstime, before traveling to Arlington for a game on Saturday.

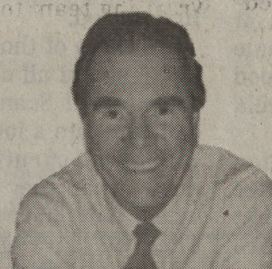

Wilmington High junior Rachel Alatalo won the 600-meter race during Tuesday's dual meet against Wakefield held at the Harvard University Track.

Wildcats first defeat defending Division 1 Champs

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

It wasn't their best performance and it wasn't their prettiest of victories, but anytime you can defeat the reigning Division 1 State Champions, it's a good day. On Saturday afternoon, the defending Division 2 state champions of Wilmington hosted the defending Division 1 state champions of Burlington and the Wildcats prevailed 3-1, behind a game winning goal from Austin O'Neal, his first goal of the season. Wilmington played a very sloppy first period and the teams were even at 1-1, before playing better in the second period, and getting the empty-net goal with 41 seconds left to put the game away before a very good crowd at the Ristuccia Arena. The win for Wilmington made it eight in a row after the team dumped its first one to Woburn. The two points for the Wildcats also puts the team in a good distance in first place of the Middlesex League Freedom Division with a 6-1-0 league record, compared to 2-3-3 for Burlington, giving the 'Cats a five point edge at this juncture of the season. "I didn't think we played well in the first period," said head coach Steve Scanlon. "It was a real sloppy first period. But we did get better as the game went along but we didn't play great. We're not forechecking the way we can. Burlington is a well-coached team. They work hard and they have some talented forwards and defense-men and the kid is good in the net. You have to play tight defensively, get good forechecking and good play from your goalie to stay with them and we didn't play our best but we were able to get the win." Wilmington got on the scoreboard first on a very pretty display of passing by its first line trio. Jake Rogers had the puck down the right wing side and he sent a nice cross pass to Brendan McDonough, who tapped the puck ahead to Cam Owens, who snapped a shot past netminder Derek DeCastro (22 saves) giving Wilmington a 1-0 lead with four minutes to go in the first period. "All three of those kids are talented and all of them can skate," said Scanlon. "They can generate a lot of offense coming out of our zone. They know what they are doing when they have the puck. They all have good hands and all can skate. They are clever kids with the puck and they know the game very well." Just 1:14 later, Burlington tied the game up as defenseman Sean Murphy took a shot from the point which was tipped in by Sean Costa and the teams skated off the ice tied at 1-1 after the first break. Wilmington had two power play opportunities in the second period but didn't convert, despite having four shots on net in the second one. Then with 1:04 to go in the second period, O'Neal scored on a weird play. The puck was dumped into the zone and he went chasing after it behind the Burlington net. He looked to make a pass out front and the puck went off the back of the leg of DeCastro and in for what turned out to be the game winner. "It's his first goal of the season so it's good to see him get one especially when it's the game winner," said Scanlon. "It was kind of fluky goal but we have been preaching just to throw things at the net. We have been trying just to get pucks to the goal and that was a big goal especially after the one was taken off the board. But that was a big goal for us." Scanlon was referring to a goal that was taken away from the 'Cats after an ill-advised whistle. In the third period, Wilmington couldn't get much going on two power play chances and then killed off one of their own with 10:23 to go, and from there, Wilmington netminder Drew Foley held down the fort making eight saves in the third period and 24 in all as he watched Rogers score an empty netter with 41 seconds left to seal the deal. Last Wednesday night, Wilmington topped Wakefield 5-0, behind a goal and two assists from Brendan McDonough while Cam Owens and Dylan DiNatale had a goal and an assist. Brian Pickett and Luke Foley had the other tallies and goalie Drew Foley made 25 saves for his fourth shut out of the season.

College/Local Runners Round-Up Mastone takes fourth place at Dartmouth Relay Meet

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

A number of locals have been performing very well on the track at the collegiate level lately. Starting with Tewksbury resident Mark Mastone, a senior at Northeastern University, who tossed 48-04 in the shot put to finish in fourth place at this past weekend's 44th annual Dartmouth Relay Meet. At Saturday's Tufts Invitational Meet, seven locals participated including three from UMass-Lowell. Stephanie Walker placed fourth in the 60-yard hurdles with a time of 9.56 seconds and she was also 16th in the 200-meter dash coming in at 28.34 seconds. Wilmington's Colleen Kennedy was 16th in the mile coming in at 5:42.33 and Tewksbury's Kyla Higgins was 12th in the weight throw and 13th in the shot put throwing 9.83 meters in both events. Finally, Courtney Spinelli of Tewksbury, a freshman at Worcester State, finished 18th in the weight throw with a toss of 8.52 meters.

On the men's side, Jon Parella of Wilmington and Kevin Maciel of Tewksbury were part of the Worcester State 4x400 relay team which finished in 9th place. And finally, Richard Kirby of Tewksbury, finished seventh in the pole vault for UMass Lowell clearing 3.85 meters. Staying with track, two former outstanding female athletes at TMHS continue to do very well. Leanne Tucker, a sophomore at Villanova University, was the lead-off leg for the 4x800 relay team which finished in first place in this weekend's New York City Gotham Cup. Tucker, who was a two-time Town Crier Female Athlete of the Year, also finished fourth in the 800 finishing with a time of 2:14.74.

Another former Town Crier Female Athlete of the Year Jess Bridle started off her career on the right foot at Bucknell University. She finished in fourth place in the 60-yard dash with a time of 8.08 seconds during the Bucknell Mini-Meet, featuring five other teams from the Pennsylvania area. Turning to basketball play, Tewksbury's Megan Robertson finished with 9 rebounds and 3 blocks to help Amherst College defeat Hamilton 50-43 and remain perfect on the season at 14-0. Wilmington's Amy Fahey, who the week before surpassed the 1,000 point plateau in her terrific career at Fitchburg State, scored 11 points and had 2 blocks in the team's 70-63 loss to Framingham State before putting in a team high 15 points and adding four boards in the 92-40 win over Fisher College. Wilmington resident Timmy McCarthy, a freshman at Framingham State, has started six games and appeared in nine, and is currently averaging 4.7 points per game helping the team to its 8-7 record. Turning to ice hockey, Tewksbury's Shawn Bradley has appeared in 12 games as a defenseman for the Fitchburg Men's team but has been held pointless thus far. In his career he has two goals and five assists in 65 games. Joseph Sodergren has two assists and Mike DiGiorgio has seen limited ice time as members of the Worcester State Men's Hockey team. On the women's side, Kerri Stuart made 29 saves helping the Amherst College team defeat Colby 2-1. And at Northeastern University, Wilmington's Casey Pickett has 12 goals and 11 assists for the Huskies, who after losing two games to BC and Cornell, are still ranked as the No. 9 team in the entire country. Outside of the college world, a handful of locals put on their running shoes, including four who completed the Disney marathon held this past weekend in Florida. Those residents include Tewksbury's Stacie and Pamela Logan, who finished with clock times of 5:48.10 and 6:57.08 respectively, as well as Wilmington residents Michelle Mallon (6:23.56) and Jennifer Bolanos (7:04.48). "It was a great experience," said Bolanos. "It was not as intense as most marathons. Runners actually stopped frequently during the race to pose with Disney favorites ranging from Cinderella to Mickey Mouse. The course went through Magic Kingdom, Animal Kingdom, Hollywood Studios, and Epcot. "We also ran around Disney's Speedway and through the ESPN Wide World of Sports Complex. It is a great race for anyone interested in completing a marathon while having fun." Twenty-three residents from Tewksbury participated in the Tewksbury Fudgecicle Series over the weekend. Mick Mawn was the top local as he came in 7th overall at 19:38 for the 3.1 mile course. He was followed by former TMHS track great Michael Hurton, who was 15th at 20:39 before mother-and-son tandem Trish and Ben Bourne who were 16th and 19th at 20:41 and 21:20 respectively. The rest of the field includes: Joseph Andella (22nd, 22:11); Stephen Jay (36th, 23:50), Matt Bohand (38th, 23:56); Lily Robinson (42nd, 24:22); McKenzie Clark (43rd, 24:22); Dave Cremin (47th, 24:27); Marli Piccolo (48th, 24:28); Steven Skinner (52nd, 24:47); Brian Restuccia (62nd, 25:59); Denise Illsley (66th, 26:35); Ken Mercer (67th, 26:14); Angie Anderson (73rd, 27:23); Ed Morrison (76th, 27:48); James Burns (78th, 27:59); Marianne Sullivan (82nd, 29:20); Riley Clark (84th, 29:25); Laura Boerman (85th, 29:35); Rita LaBella (88th, 30:46) and Barry Lewin (101st, 33:21).

Shawsheen Tech Round-Up

Rams Boys Hockey team slides over .500 mark

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

BILLERICA – Victories have been a little harder to come by this season than in recent seasons for the Shawsheen Tech Boys Hockey team as the perennial CAC and state vocational champions have had to deal with replacing several key players from the team that was one of the best in Division 3 for the past four seasons.

But the Rams seem to be hitting their stride as of late, as they won two games this past week to run their overall winning streak to four straight games and move over the .500 mark for the first time this season at 5-4.

The Rams started their week with a 4-2 non-league win over Cambridge Rindge & Latin last Thursday night at the Hallenborg Pavilion, and followed that up with another 4-2 win, this time over CAC rival Northeast Metro Tech on the road.

Shawsheen coach Chuck Baker has been pleased with the direction his team is heading.

"I am happy. We are showing improvement each day we are together," Baker said. "The team is starting to play and practice with enthusiasm and they are working hard."

Shawsheen senior forward Nolan Gaffey of Wilmington scored a pair of goals for Rams, continuing what has been an outstanding season to this point.

"Nolan works hard," Baker said. "He is a wing who plays his best when he is physical and offensively drives the net with the puck as he did versus Cambridge with success."

Gaffey was not alone in his offensive production, as the Rams also got a goal from

Nick Gelormini and a goal and an assist from Lucas Daniels. Daniels is a familiar face to Rams fans, but Gelormini is a newcomer to the varsity. The senior forward is beginning to make a name for himself.

"Nick was a three year junior varsity player who has stuff to offer the team," Baker said. "He has a great attitude right now and I hope he continues to be a contributor the rest of the season."

On Saturday the Rams defeated CAC rival Northeast for the second time this season to improve to 3-1 in the league on the year.

Shawsheen got a pair of goals from senior defenseman Ryan Capraro of Tewksbury. Capraro has provided a much needed offensive threat for the Rams this season from the point, but his offensive exploits have not hindered his great defensive ability.

"He is still holding down the fort on defense," Baker said. "He just has a bunch of offensive ability and takes advantage when he gets the opportunity. I have also been using him on the wing for power play situations with Brandon Gentile and Daniels."

The Rams got a couple of good efforts in net in their two wins with junior Dom Montecalvo of Tewksbury making 17 saves against Cambridge while senior Matt Curran of Wilmington had 15 stops against Northeast.

WRESTLING

It was supposed to be a matchup of two of the best high school wrestling teams in the state, a closely contested battle that looked going in like it would come down to the last match of the day. It turned out to be anything but that.

Last Saturday afternoon when Shawsheen Tech, ranked 13th in the state at the time, hosted eighth ranked Reading as part of a tri-meet along with Greater Lawrence it was assumed that Shawsheen would get past Greater Lawrence fairly handily, but Reading was of course viewed as a much bigger threat.

Instead the Rams rolled to victory over both teams, routing their CAC rival Reggies by a score of 56-9 while totally dominating Reading by a score of 51-15.

"We thought it would be a close match, but we wanted to make a statement against them and I think we did," Shawsheen coach Mark Donovan said. "I don't know how good we are yet. We had some good wins over Lowell, Tewksbury and Tyngsboro but we weren't sure. This win over Reading was big. They are legit. I think we are a good team, but we have more to do."

Several Rams wrestlers had outstanding performances on the day with seven Shawsheen grapplers picking up a pair of wins, including five with pins in each of their matches.

Sophomores Bryce Spinoso (106), Ryan Powderly (120), Josh Merrifield (145) and Chris Sorenson (160) were among the double pin winners.

Spinoso was tremendous for the Rams last season as a freshman, finishing fifth in the state meet, but Powderly, Merrifield and Sorenson are making their first major contributions on the varsity level this season.

"They are getting better every day and that is huge

Rams three-sport star battles with dyslexia

Medeiros dominates on the court and on the fields

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

BILLERICA -- Anybody who has ever seen Ari Medeiros in action as a three sport athlete at Shawsheen Tech knows that she is cool under pressure. Weather it's nailing the big shot in basketball, coming through with the clutch hit for the softball team or scoring the game winning goal for the soccer team, the senior from Tewksbury is unflappable in the face of what some would consider tremendous pressure.

Perhaps that is because the pressure that Medeiros faces on the athletic fields and courts is nothing compared to what she has overcome to be a successful student off the field and in the classroom.

Medeiros was diagnosed with dyslexia when she was in second grade, making every day learning tasks much more difficult for her than the average student from the time she was very young.

Her disability of course carried over into her high school academic career, and at a challenging academic institution like Shawsheen Tech, it may have been a disability that would be just too difficult to overcome for most people.

But just as she has shown throughout her athletic career, Ari Medeiros is not like most people. Not only has she gotten through the tough academic standards at Shawsheen Tech, thanks to her hard work and the help of her teachers, she has actually thrived and is planning on heading to college in the fall.

"It was always hard for me in school," Medeiros said. "When I was younger I would mix up letters and even now it is hard for me to understand some letters so I have to read very slowly. I definitely have to put more work in than most people. It is hard, but you do what you have to do and do the best you can."

It is not always easy for Medeiros who has seen some frustrating times as a student, but she has had great support at home from her parents Paul and Karen Medeiros as well as all of her teachers, particularly Miss Sueltenfuss, who along with being the assistant basketball coach is also a teacher at Shawsheen Tech.

"My parents helped me out so much. There were days when I would come home and just cry and they would support me," Medeiros said. "And when I am in school, Miss Sueltenfuss helps me out so much. Even though she is not one of my teachers, she is always there to support me."

Medeiros attitude of always giving it her best is the same attitude that she has brought to her athletic career, and while Medeiros has obviously made a huge impact on the sports programs at Shawsheen Tech, the sports programs have also made a huge impact on her.

"Sports have been very important to me," Medeiros said. "Sometimes after a hard day of school when there are things I don't understand, I am able to go to practice to a place where I know what to do and I love what I do."

And why wouldn't Medeiros love what she is doing? She has been a part of a remarkable 11 CAC championship teams during her three sport career at the Tech while putting up some fantastic individual numbers.

She is the third all time leading scorer in the history of the Shawsheen Girls Soccer program with 97 career points, including 30 goals and 40 points this past season, while batting leadoff for the Lady Rams perennial CAC champion softball team, posting a .346 average this past season.

Right now Medeiros is in the midst of another great season with the Shawsheen Girls Basketball team. After helping to lead the Lady Rams to another CAC title and advancing all the way to the Division 4 North finals last season, Medeiros and her teammates are back for more this season, with a 6-1 record so far as they aim to improve on last season's great campaign.

"We lost some really good players off of last year's team, but we are working hard to do even better than last year," Medeiros said. "You just have to keep working and do the best we can and I think we can go far."

Medeiros likely won't put up the huge numbers with the basketball team that she put up with the softball and soccer teams, but that is just fine with her. After being more of a scorer the past couple of seasons, her role with the Lady Rams has changed this season, as with the departure of several key seniors, she will be counted on more to distribute the ball than to score it.

"I want to do whatever I can to help the team," Medeiros said. "I love to make good passes to Stephanie (Champoux) and our other players and see them score. I like to score too, but really I want to do whatever the team needs."

Her willingness to help the team came as no surprise to Shawsheen coach Dick Barriss, who has seen Medeiros fill a number of roles with the team during her four years with the team.

"She was with us as a freshman and played some, but she also played point guard with the JV team, and then as a sophomore with us she thrived as a two guard and became more of a scorer and then she really came into her own as a scorer last year for us," Barriss said. "Once again this year her role has changed. Her points have gone down, but she is doing what we are asking her to do and she is doing a lot more passing."

But that does not mean that Medeiros cannot still put the ball in the hoop when she needs to. Barriss knows when he needs a big basket he can count on his versatile veteran who serves as one of the Lady Rams captains.

"On any given night she is capable of scoring 15 or 20 points," Barriss said. "She is still probably our best three-point shooter. If the game is on the line and we need a three pointer I want her to get the ball."

It was much the same for Medeiros through her soccer career, where again she filled a variety of roles, playing forward in a limited role as a freshman and as a sophomore before moving to center-midfield as a junior and then switching back and forth from center-mid to forward as a senior.

One thing that never changed for Medeiros regardless of her position was her ability to put the ball in net, as her 96 points place her third on Shawsheen's all time scoring list behind only 100 plus scorers Jenn Carroll and Jenna Zechner.

"She probably could have put up even more points and broken one hundred, but her freshman year she was behind Jenn and Jenna," Shawsheen soccer coach Doug Michaud said. "It was hard for her to get goals with the two of them scoring the way they were. It was just not going to happen."

As much as it is very likely that she would have had more career points if she had been starting as a freshman, Medeiros is appreciative for her time being part of such a great team as a young player and grateful for having learned from such talented players, particularly Zechner.

"It helped a lot to see what they were able to do and it made me want to be even better and to be just like them," Medeiros said. "Jenna Zechner was my role model. She is going to school at Merrimack now and I look up to her so much. I wanted to be just like her."

With the career that Medeiros has had, it is likely that young members of the current Lady Rams squad will one day be saying how much they admire Medeiros and the way she played.

Also a captain with the soccer team, Medeiros hopes she has left a legacy that other players will look up to.

"I would love for kids to want to play like me," Medeiros said. "I love that responsibility and I always want to do my best and give a good example of how you should play."

Tewksbury resident Ari Medeiros is a three-sport star at Shawsheen Tech, who has been a part of 11 league championship titles between basketball, soccer and softball over her career. She also ranks among the top scorers of all-time in soccer.

Of course Medeiros provided a great example of how a teammate should play with her willingness and ability to play a variety of positions as she has throughout her career with the soccer team.

"Even when I play center-mid I always liked to score and want to help the team," Medeiros said. "I like to help the team and I think I can do that when I can touch the ball and control the field. It doesn't matter where I play, as long as I can play the sport I love and help the team."

Medeiros has most certainly helped the team during her career, as the Lady Rams have won four CAC championships and four state vocational titles during her career. As great as it is for her as an individual to score goals, the best part of being part of the soccer teams has been the great success they have had as a group.

"It's been an awesome experience," Medeiros said. "Most high school kids do not get to experience anything like that so it has been great to be a part of such great teams. I love that I am able to be a part of the team's success."

Despite the great numbers that Medeiros put up throughout her career, Michaud says that what she will be remembered for most is the effort she put in during every game and practice.

"She just has a no quit attitude and she always wants to win," Michaud said. "She doesn't think about putting up number, she was always more about playing the game and doing whatever she could for the team. She is just a great kid to coach."

Medeiros has also been a great kid to coach for Shawsheen softball coach Maureen Buckley who is looking forward to welcoming Medeiros back for her fourth year as a starter with the teams this spring.

Originally a shortstop for the Lady Rams, Buckley moved her to second base in her junior year and as usual she has responded in great fashion to the change.

"When we have pitchers throwing the ball well, throwing fastballs and drop balls the right side of the infield can be a very vulnerable position so we really needed her there," Buckley said. "She has done a great job for us since we moved her over there."

Medeiros also had a fine season at the plate, batting leadoff for the Lady Rams with not only her .346 batting average, but also a .414 on base percentage.

"She did a great job for us batting leadoff," Buckley said. "But even more important than that, she brought a great attitude to the team every day, and she supports her teammates in whatever they do. It is a pleasure having her on the team."

For Medeiros, it has also been a pleasure to be part of the team and she is looking forward to an even better season with her teammates this season after being eliminated in the first round last year by Austin Prep.

"I definitely feel like we can do even better than last year," Medeiros said. "We bring a lot of the same players back and we want to improve on last season. I think we can keep getting better."

If there is one thing Ari Medeiros knows all about is getting better and better. She has lived it almost every day of her academic career and she hopes to provide a great example for other students like her.

"I want to inspire people that even though they have disabilities it doesn't mean that you can't do what you love," Medeiros said. "It just might be harder. I want to let people know that you can do it if you just give one hundred percent."

As a junior, Ari Meideros batted .394 as the Rams lead-off hitter in softball and played a solid second base.

for us," Donovan said. "As a team we have to count on everyone to contribute in every match. If someone is out we need someone else to step up and these guys have really stepped up when we have needed them."

Junior Dustin Thibault (182) also won both of his matches by pin, while Matt Mann (132) and Nick Hoar (171) each won with one pin and one decision.

GIRLS HOOP

It didn't take long for the Shawsheen Tech Girls Basketball team to bounce back from their first loss of the season. After suffering their first loss against CAC rival Whittier last week the Lady Rams fought back this week with a pair of dominant victories over a pair of CAC rivals to improve their record on the season to 6-1.

Shawsheen started their week with a 65-45 win over Mystic Valley last Friday night at the Cook Street Pavilion before following that up with a 60-29 road win over Lynn Tech on Tuesday night.

In the win over Mystic, the Lady Rams got a well balanced scoring attack as Barriss was able to get all of his players into the game. Sophomore forward Emily Irwin led the way for Shawsheen with 13 points, while senior Stephanie Champoux of Tewksbury had 12 points, ten rebounds, six assists and six steals and junior guard Shanell Nardone had 12 points.

Shawsheen put the game away quickly, racing out to a 25-6 lead at the end of the first quarter and coasting from there.

"We knew Mystic was one of the better teams in the Middle Division so we weren't sure what to expect," Shawsheen coach Dick Barriss said. "But Mystic came out a little tentative and before you knew it we were up 25-6.

"That was one of the better periods we have played all season in terms of rebounding, steals, passes and everything."

Champoux's outstanding all around game was just the latest in a season full of great efforts in a season where the versatile senior has led the Lady Rams in a variety of roles.

"She is having a great season," Barriss said. "Here is a girl who played the four (forward) for us for the past three years and now this year she has either been at the five (center) or the one (point guard) and she is still doing a great job."

Rachel Fahey added nine points for Shawsheen, while Tewksbury's Emily Knoops added nine points and Tewksbury's Ari Medeiros had six assists.

Against Lynn Tech of the CAC Lower Division on Tuesday night, the Upper Division Lady Rams knew they might have an easy time of it, and the most certainly did as they coasted to a 60-29 victory.

"We saw going in that they had lost to Whittier the other night 51-9 so we knew going in that it would not be much of a game," Barriss said. "But the girls did what they had to do."

Champoux led the way with 12 points, while Knoops added nine points and Irwin chipped in seven in yet another game where Barriss was able to get all of his players into the game.

Sophomore Taylor O'Brien had ten points in the game, while Tewksbury's Katie Dunleavy just a freshman had four point and six rebounds.

"They were both a little nervous at the start of the game but they both responded well," Barriss said. "It was great to get them into some varsity playing time."

Shawsheen will look to continue their winning ways next Tuesday night when they host Notre Dame Academy of Tyngsboro.

SWIMMING

The Shawsheen Co-Swimming team had another fine week this past week, picking up two more victories to improve to 5-1 on the season.

Shawsheen got their week off to a great start last Wednesday with a 105-73 road victory over Blue Hills Regional of Canton and followed it up with an 85-71 win at home over CAC rival Greater Lawrence on Saturday.

Against Greater Lawrence, the Rams had several outstanding performances and several multiple winners, led by Anthony Federico who took first place in the 50-meter freestyle in a time of 26.06 seconds, while also capturing the 100-butterfly in a time of 1:10.93.

Federico was also part of the winning 200 meter medley relay team along with Robert Eisenhauer, Cameron Rebidue and Ryan Phelan in a time of 2:05.66 and the 400-meter freestyle relay along with Rebidue, Phelan and Kyle Berry in a time of 4:08.60.

The Rams dominated the relay events, taking the top three spots in both of them, with Molly Harrington, Victoria Fisher, Kaitlyn Gordon and Chris Barczak taking second in the 200-medley and Lauren Barletta, Skylar Jacques, Arianna Brangiforte and Melissa King taking third.

In the 400-medley it was the team of Britni Crotty, Jackie Farraher, Nicole Kopaz and Harrington taking second with Anthony Santos, Marissa Cushing, Jenna Brown and Scott Mellon taking third.

Rebidue took first in the 200-meter individual medley, while Barczak was first in the 100 freestyle in a time of 1:02.01 and Phelan was first in the 500 freestyle in a time of 6:18.09.

Eisenhauer was first in the 200-meter backstroke in a time of 1:10.94, while Alan Perez won the 100-meter breaststroke in a time of 1:22.48.

BOYS HOOP

After suffering a tough 44-43 defeat to Chelsea on the road last Friday night, the Shawsheen Boys Basketball team bounced back in a big way on Tuesday night, routing CAC rival Lynn Tech by a score of 73-43 at the Cook Street pavilion to improve their record on the season to 6-4 overall.

"Losing to Chelsea by one point was a huge disappointment for us and for our guys to bounce back the way we did against Lynn, I was very proud of them," Shawsheen coach Greg Bendel said. "I am pleased with the way they responded as a team."

Shawsheen was led by a monster performance by junior center Jared Pinette who had 27 points and 18 rebounds on the night, while senior guard Joe Spinale of Wilmington was also outstanding with 15 points and six steals and fellow senior guard Paul DePlacido had ten points and six rebounds.

The Rams also got a strong effort from freshman forward Ryan Donnell of Wilmington who had two points and ten rebounds off the bench.

"Jared was outstanding. He totally dominated the paint," Bendel said. "But our defense was the difference. Joe and Paul put a lot of pressure on their guards and forced Lynn to turn it over."

The Rams came out red hot building a quick twenty point lead and never trailed in the game, as they dominated Lynn Tech from start to finish."

"This was the best we have played as a team all year," Bendel said. "This is the way I know our guys can play and they proved it tonight. Our guys are improving every day and we hope to continue to improve in the second half of the season as well."

Next up for the Rams will be a trip to North Reading on Sunday to take on the No.

1 team in Division 3. North Reading is 10-0 on the season.

"North Reading is arguably one of the best teams in Division 3 this year and we know that they have a very talented roster," Bendel said. "This will be a huge test for us to see where we stand, but I know our guys will be up for the challenge."

Wilmington 7th Grade Blue team puts up 82 points

The Wilmington 7th Grade Blue Boys Travel Basketball team was in action this past week. First Wilmington defeated Chelmsford, 82-44. The Wildcats got off to quick start and kept the pedal to the metal for all 32 minutes.

Wilmington had four players scoring in double figures including Graham Smith with 19, Chris Grecco and Matt Amentola with 12 each and Billy McEvoy with 11.

Chris Grecco had a monster game. His 12 points were a season high for him. He was also huge on the defensive side as well. He had numerous rebounds and forced turnovers with his tight man to man pressure. To finish off a superb game he was able to draw a charge on Chelmsford's biggest player.

With the win the Wildcats move to 8-0 in league play.

Wilmington then topped Wakefield 61-50. Wilmington's star point guard Graham Smith and Wakefield's star center Sean Smith.

Graham Smith who started the season recovering from a hip injury appears to have fully recovered and is playing at his best. He was scoring inside and out. He was penetrating the defense and getting layups and knocking down jump shots from outside. When he wasn't scoring his season high 24 points, he was dishing out assists to his team mates. All but one Wildcat figured in on the scoring. Danny Gracia helped out with eight points and Billy McEvoy chipped in with six.

Iowa nets a win in Wilmington Rec. Hoop action

Big 10 Boys Grade 3 Iowa 18, Purdue 14

Having himself quite the performance was Jack Malloy. Malloy tied for the team lead, along with Joseph McLaren for a game high of 6 points. However, Malloy swished home the game winning shot with under a minute to go in the close-knit contest. Jake Warford also had himself a solid day at the office with 4 points of his own, while Michael Moody scored the remaining basket.

For the Boilermakers, Nicholas Doyle played a nice game with 6 points, 4 of which came in the first half. Right behind him was Luke Vitale with 4 points. Evan Lovine and Brett DeAmbrose each scored a basket.

Wisconsin 34, Nebraska 17

Leading the way for the Badgers was Dominic Gabardi with a game high 10 points. Six of his ten came in the first half to lead a balanced scoring attack. William Stuart and Daevin Harless each dropped in 8 points while Matthew Ardito swished in 4 points of his own. Andrew Ruff and Liam Dwyer both scored a basket for the victors.

On the other side, filling up the scoring sheet was Tommy Mallinson who scored 7 points including a three-pointer to open up the second half. Tyler Rourke was very solid offensively as he dropped in 6 points. Jake Dwyer and Seamus Lowney both scored a basket in the second half.

Indiana 24, Minnesota 24

Above is not a typo, this indeed was an overtime tie. In what was easily the most exciting game of the day, Keegan Gray led the way for the Hoosiers with 10 points, including all 4 points in overtime. Tommy Boyajian had 6 points of his own with 4 coming in the second half. Craig McHugh and Joseph Dynan both scored 4 points as well.

For the Golden Gophers, Luke Murphy had a game high 12 points, with 6 in the first half and 4 more coming in overtime. Michael Walsh had 6 points while Nate Packer swished in 4 of his own. Christian Luongo scored a basket himself in the first half.

Michigan 25, Ohio St. 10

Unlike the NCAA game yesterday, this game went to the Wolverines. Leading the balanced scoring attack was Nicholas Fanuele with a game high 8 points. Helping share the load was Andrew Scolastico with 7 points, including a 3 that was from NBA range. Brian Duggan played well and scored 6 points of his own, including 4 in the first half. Jeandre Abel and Joey Zuccola both swished in baskets early on in the first half.

On the other side for Ohio St., taking charge was Shane Costello with 6 points. All of Costello's points scored came in the second half. Joey Cornish and Jack Melanson both swished home a basket in the second half as well.

Big East Boys Grades 4&5 DePaul 22, U. Conn 15

This early morning game turned out to be one of the more hotly contested games of the day with the score going back and forth throughout most of the game. Dominic Pedit led the DePaul team once again a solid 16 points along with a quality defensive effort as well. The last 6 points came from Timothy Trevisone, Patrick O'Mahony, and Sean Messinger who all had 2 points each.

DePaul played a quality game down the stretch after having a rocky start; offensively they found themselves and pulled out the victory.

The scoring leader for U. Conn was Vincent Scalfani who had 5 points; coming in right behind him was and Michael Hersom and Christopher Wong who both had 4 points. The final 2 points came from Jacob Fox capping the scoring off at 15 for U. Conn.

Georgetown 20, Marquette 14

Georgetown played an extremely high paced game, with their guards getting out and running a lot. The two leading scorers for the team were Peter DiAdamo and Christian Robarge who both had 6 points. Both these two also played quality defense getting some quality steals that led to breakaways the other way. Patrick McCarthy was also a key to the teams' quick paced attack with 2 points and quality defense.

Marquette had more of balanced attack trying to slow the game down; their leading scorer was Anthony Gallucci who had 4 points. His brother Derek had 2 points, as did Zachary Morris, Colin Gates, David Bazile, and Ryan Martin. Cameron Quinlan helped the team defensively playing very smart and disciplined on that end of the floor. The team put up a lot of fight but it was not enough to ward off the quick paced frenzy from Georgetown.

Cincinnati 26, Rutgers 6

Everything was clicking for Cincinnati on Saturday as it seems that every week they are even better than the last. They played a very fluent basketball game with a high-powered offensive attack; two players were in double figures, Tristan Ciampa and Tyler Newhouse who led the team with 11 points each. Two players who had breakout performances were DJ Ricupero and Brendan Ho; Ricupero had 6 points to go along with numerous steals, showing his great anticipation for the opposing team's passes. Ho had 8 points as well as one of the great rebounding performances by a player this season.

Rutgers just had one of those days where nothing would go down for them, as there seemed to be a lid on the basket. Jake Arsenaault led the way for the team with 4 points, with the final 2 points coming from Max Wright. Dylan Briggs had a quality defensive performance for his team getting on the boards a lot as well.

Louisville 32, Notre Dame 17

Though the score may not show it, this game was one of the most exciting of the day; extremely fast paced, and a lot of heart shown from both teams. The leading scorers for Louisville were Sean Kelley and Joseph DeMonico who had 8 points apiece. Dominick DeMonico and Conor Rooney came in behind them 4 points each, along with some quality defense.

Steven Contrada also had a stand out game on the defensive end of the ball along with 2 points helping his team get the victory.

The leading scorers for Notre Dame were Joseph Hansen, Sean Riley, and Jason Moore who all had 4 points.

Sukethram Sivakumar came in right behind them with 3 points and played very well overall throughout the whole game. Unfortunately the outstanding efforts from the team were not enough to put them over the top for the victory.

Providence 26, Syracuse 11

The leading scorer for Providence on Saturday was Evan Vachon with 10 points. Coming up next was Reid Cote who had 8 points to go along with an array of steals showing off his good anticipation on defense. Aaron Babu also had a superb game with 6 points showing nice touch around the hoop; the final 4 points came from Ryan Forcina.

James Valente and Danny McConologue led the way for Syracuse with 4 points each; the final 3 came from Jerry Copson and Atley Miller. Jose Rojas James and Gregory Adamek both played quality games on both the offensive and defensive side of the ball.

Villanova 22, Pittsburgh 2

Richie McNamara led the way for Villanova in all facets of the game scoring 12 points as well as doing a good job of getting everyone involved with all kinds of assists. Other than that scoring break-out, the Villanova offensive attack was very balanced with eight players getting in the score-book. Patrick McAndrew had a solid game with 4 points and a good job on the boards as well. Jake Danieli did a good job on the defensive end for his team propelling Villanova to a decisive victory.

Max Wright, who had good game on defense as well as offense, scored Pitt's points. Joe Lydon and Devin Milano played gritty and tough for their team.

Conference USA Boys Grades 6&7 SMU 37, Marshall 17

In an offensive explosion that included 8 different scorers, SMU simply did not miss a beat. Taking charge in the juggernaut attack was Michael Daley with a game high 14 points. Helping him out was Thomas Hogan with 9 points and Christopher Medeiros with 6 points. Peter Marino, Jr. was excellent on defense. For Marshall, leading the way was Matthew McElligott with 5 points. Rafael Veloso chipped in with 3 points of his own. Although Marshall was short handed, their effort was never in doubt, especially with the desire of Andrew Miller's presence on the floor.

Tulsa 43, Central Florida 23

Coming out guns a blazing once again for Tulsa was Andrew Dalio. Dalio had himself yet another impressive offensive showing by dropping 29 points, 20 of which came in the first half. Dalio was not a one man show, however. Michael Soel had 8 points of his own, while Sudarshan Swamy was one of three players to score 4 points. Jerome Bazile's presence on the glass is second to none; grabbing every rebound in site like it was pieces of candy.

For Central Florida, having a hold on the offensive side of the ball was Sean Braz, who dropped in 11 points. There were three players who scored 4 points a piece, led by Dillon McCarthy. Gavin Kelsey did all he could to try to ignite an offensive attack.

E. Carolina 37, Southern Miss 33

Leading the way for the Pirates from E. Carolina was Kevin O'Donnell. O'Donnell played a very solid game scoring 7 points, while dishing out assists to his teammates left and right. Joshua Smith, Brandon O'Donoghue, and Sean Devlin each scored 6 points in the upset win. Although he did not score, Joshua Williams' mere presence did just enough to throw Southern Miss off of their game.

For Southern Miss, leading the way was Sean Hardy with 16 points. Right behind him was brother Kellan Hardy with 13 points. The twin towers combined for 8 points in the first half. Sean Lynch was aggressive on defense.

Memphis 37, Rice 22

Taking command of the offense for the Tigers was Shawn Marshall. No not the baseball pitcher, the middle school basketball player. Marshall led the way with 12 points, 8 of which came in the second half. Not to be forgotten was Jason Spizuoco with 11 points, 7 of which came in the first half. Jack Boyle had a nice offensive performance with 6 points of his own. Billy Hardy had a great game, especially with his heads-up passing.

For the Owls, having himself an outstanding offensive game was Matthew Hansen with a game high 16 points. Eleven of his sixteen points came in the first half. Joshua Bartnicki was one of three players to score a basket. Cameron Sousa and Brett Chisholm did everything they could to ignite the offense for Rice in the second half.

Tulane 31, Houston 22

Dropping it like it's hot for Tulane was Joseph McInney. McInney led all scorers with a game high 14 points, including 11 points in the first half. Helping him out was Kyle Ritson with 8 points. Matthew Spinos had 6 points while Jared Marquard chipped in 2 of his own. Shiv Patel and Nicholas Tanguay played lock down defense in the closing minutes to ensure the victory.

On the other side for Houston, taking control of the offense was Samuel DeAngelis with 10 points, including a 3. Helping out DeAngelis was Matthew Rideout with 5 points while Scott Falzano had 4. Brandon Cheng played Avery Bradley type defense throughout the whole contest.

NBA Boys Grades 8 - 10 Suns 44, Wizards 32

The Suns handed the Wizards their second loss of the season in week 5 of the 2012-2013 NBA season. Cameron Walsh was on fire this week, hitting both close and long range shots. He finished the game with 15 points; including a three pointer. Nick Skerik was next in line with 8 points. Brad Fisher threw in an additional 7 points, six of which came from behind the arc. Ian Palmer scored on two treys as well for 6 points of his own, while both Dan Bell and Steven Godfrey finished with 4 points. Mike Leone was a force on offense as well making many great passes to his teammates.

Peter Daley took the Wizards on his back this week scoring a whopping 20 points. Daley scored ten points in each half. Thomas Simmons and Colin Stanford were each able to score 4 points. Brian Ho and Brian Dussault rounded out the score with 2 points apiece.

Heat 54, Knicks 34

The Heat continues to be on fire in the NBA with a strong win over the Knicks. The Heat was led by the amazing performance of Scott Newton. Newton had the hot hand all game with 25 total points. Newton found his rhythm in the second half especially, scoring 19 of his points in just the final 20 minutes alone. Rob Fullerton also had a very strong day for the Heat scoring 16 points. Together, the duo combined for 41 of the Heat's points. Brian Cavanaugh and Scott Edwards scored 5 and 4 points respectively, while Mike Germano and Devin Botelho each finished with a basket.

The Knicks were led by Adam Patton's 12 points performance. Patton scored 6 of his points in each half - including two three pointers. Zachary Ahlin and Ryan Aldrich each finished with 6 points, and DJ Kenney finished with 4. Three other Knicks also scored a basket in the loss: Alex Fanikos, Kevin Cummings, and Matthew Morrison.

Nets 39, Pistons 26

Moving to 3-2 on the young season, the Nets were led by the duo of Pat Dunfee and Darin MacEacheron. Dunfee finished with a team high 8 points, while MacEacheron finished right behind with 7 points of his own. The rest of the offense was split fairly even between the other Nets as Tyler Hamilton threw in 6 and Brendan Pierce added 5 more. Nick Poli and Michael DeMarco each chipped in with 4, while Justin Leger found the basket for 3 points.

Bradley Priem rounded out the scoring with 2 points. Zachary Marcinkowski was a defensive force keeping the Nets ahead. The Pistons had two 9-point performances in Ryan Flood and Michael Lulsdorf. Both players scored a triple in their game. The rest of the points were split between four Pistons - Brendan Daley, Nick Fanikos, Mason Ouellette, and Freddy O'Brien - all of whom scored a basket.

Hornets 42, Lakers 32

The Hornets rallied behind Steven McInnis and his 16 point performance this week. McInnis scored 10 of his points in the first half and the final 6 in the second. Michael Berardi-Coulter and Luke McInnis were next in line scoring 6 points apiece. Anthony Luti and Edmond DeAngelis both finished with 4 points of their own, while Joshua Bryant, Connor Zaya, and Anthony Brown all finished with a basket in the victory.

The Lakers had the game-high scorer in Mike Coca's 17 points, but it was not enough as the Hornets were too strong down the stretch. Coca exploded for 14 points in the second half alone - six of which came from beyond the arc. Joseph Visalli contributed 4 points and Ed Germano added another 3. Kevin Burke, Cameron Albert, David Bailey, and Cole Walsh all finished with 2 points on the day. Brendan Thorpe had a great defensive game for the Lakers.

Bulls 28, Nuggets 21

The Nuggets and Bulls battled for a fourth win this week as the Bulls managed to come away a slight victory over the Nuggets. The Bulls were led by Devin Field's 15 point day. Field scored 8 in the first half and 7 in the second. Brendan McInney was next in line with 4 points, while Daniel Tetreault and Brian Neal each finished with a deuce. Zachary Thomas, Andrew Medros, and Andrew Vellucci combined for the final 3 points with each player scoring a free throw.

The Nuggets struggled with their shooting this week, but their effort and determination was as strong as ever. Jordan Russo led the Nuggets with 7 points. Kyle Felisberto and Zachary Richards were next in line with 5 points apiece. Jackson Smith added another 3, while Riley Keogan finished with 1 point of his own. Chancellor Harper and Jack Sweeney had great games for their teams on both ends of the court.

Atlantic 10 Girls Grades 3&4

Xavier 18, Rhode Island 14

Scoring almost all of her baskets from steals and fast-breaks, Xavier's Andrea Turner (12 points) led her team to victory over Rhode Island on Saturday. Supporting Turner's scoring efforts were Jenna Moore with 4 points and Leila McLaren with 2 points. Olivia Dennett and Allison Rebeiro did an excellent job of shutting down the passing lanes on defense to stall Rhode Island's offense. Emily McHugh and Madison Ahern played well on both the offensive and defensive sides of the ball.

Great inside shooting by Rhode Island's Kayla Smith gave her a team-high 5 points in this contest. Contributing points on Rhode Island's behalf were Christianna Bittarelli (3 points), Ashley MacGilvray (2 points), Madison Guy (2 points) and Ida Bishop (2 points).

Nokomis Bramante Cohen, Laura Tran and Sara Buckley played tight defense on Xavier's guards making them work for every basket.

Duquesne 20, Dayton 11

At the end of the game against Dayton Saturday, Rebecca Dillon had 10 points listed next to her number in the scorebook and Duquesne had a win. Emily Watson (4 points) and Alexa Kelley (4 points) scored baskets at critical times to keep their team ahead. Kaitlyn Doherty made a nice shot from the outside to give her team 2 points. Nina Koester (2 points), Janelle Penney and Celia Kulis stopped Dayton's advances to the basket throughout the game with their defensive skills.

Grace Leone was high scorer for Dayton with 7 points. Leone got support in the scoring department from Teagan McDonald and Alessia Puccio who had 2 points each. Alyssa Schuurman had a great game on both ends of the floor. Elizabeth Stokes and Alexa Leone's intensity on defense forced Duquesne's offense out of its rhythm.

LaSalle 22, Fordham 17

The strong inside play of Katie Stone (12 points) helped LaSalle win over Fordham in the final game of the day. Samantha Papastathis scored 4 points, Sydney Vega had 4 points, and Rita Roche had 2 points to complete the scoring for LaSalle. Madison Wareham, Mackenzie Canning and Kari Wells made great passes in addition to displaying strong defensive ability. Sofia Donovan, Antonia Brunetto and Olivia Rogers contributed strong play on both offense and defense.

Krista Gabaree scored 8 points and Grace Ardito scored 7 points to lead Fordham's scoring. Alison Celata, playing at the forward position, shot well in the second half and ended with 2 points. Alyssa Granara, who consistently drove to the basket, made it to the free throw line multiple times. Rosie Brady, Samantha Thompson and Shea Cushing challenged all of LaSalle's shots on defense. Gabrielle deVerbigier and Molly Ardito supported the team with strong defensive efforts.

ACC Girls Grades 5&6

Maryland 20, Duke 8

Emily Gear and Emma Surette exploded for 10 points each propelling Maryland to a win over Duke Saturday. Emma Garrity and Jennifer Mills each contributed 6 points to the offensive total. Danielle Liscio, who plays tough defense, had 2 points and Katie McConologue also had 2 points. Mansi Thakkar, Olivia Brooks (4 points) and Jessica Stevens (2 points) supported the offense with pinpoint passing and relentless defense.

Duke had four players score baskets to keep the game close in the first half. Jessica Ahern scored 2 points on an inside move near the basket. Alexa Williams and Melanie Hayden chipped in a basket apiece to round out the scoring. Kiki Barnum scrambled for loose balls and hustled on defense all game. Anna Rideout and Christie Cappiello both had great defensive games for their team.

Miami 25, Clemson 14

Meagan Pennie (6 points) and Cassidy Spear (4 points) took charge of the offense and led their team to a win over perennial power Clemson on Saturday. Playing well offensively and scoring 4 points each were Brittany Cimaglia, April Haines and Zahraa Warren. Sophia Bonaccorsi, Amanda Tran and Maryjane Martin (3 points) worked tirelessly on defense to keep Clemson on their toes. Allyson Buckley had some nice steals and was an integral part of the defensive efforts of Miami.

A nice 6 point effort on offense by Meghan Abbey was not enough to get Clemson past Miami. Delaney Diaz (4 points) and Victoria McGloughlin (4 points) helped on the offensive end, while Julia Willson, Raegan Sweeney and Shannon Abbey held down the defensive side of the court for Clemson. Shauna Pierce and Meghan Canale rebounded well and hustled on defense the entire game.

WNBA Girls Grades 7-10

Mercury 23, Mystics 22

The Mercury came out on top this week with an exciting one point victory over the Mystics. Katelyn Stevens was on fire as she converted several shots and a free throw for 9 total points. Hailey Liston was next in line with 6 points, while Kyra Walsh added another 4. Kendra Swift and Jackie Champoux each finished the day with 2 points of their own. Katelyn Biggins and Lindsey Rosania both had strong defensive games to keep their team ahead until the final buzzer.

The Mystics were led by the duo of Shannon O'Grady and Mia O'Connell. O'Grady finished as the team's leading scorer with 8 points. O'Connell was right behind scoring 6 of her own. Rachel Gulletto contributed another 4, while Julie D'Augusta and Heather Pozzi rounded out the scoring with a basket apiece. Christina John was the hustler of the game as she played with tremendous energy on both ends of the court.

Liberty 50, Storm 10

The Liberty put on an offensive clinic this week. The trio of Helena Walker, Isabella Cigna, and Samantha Rideout combined for 38 of the Liberty's 50 points. Walker finished the day with 14 points, single handedly outscoring the Storm. She scored 10 of her 14 in the final 20 minutes. Cigna and Rideout finished in double digits as well, with each player contributing 12 points. Bella Lamothe chipped in with 6 points, while Emily Loud, Nicole Mallinson, and Krista Brown all found the basket for 2 points.

The Storm struggled against a strong Liberty defense, but they refused to give up and fought strong for the entire 40 minutes. Shannon Mota and Samantha MacInnis combined for all of the Storm's points scoring 6 and 4 points respectively.

Sky 30, Sparks 14

Siobhan Turner continues to be a star for the Sky as she once again finished in double digits. Turner scored 9 points in the first half and another 8 in the second for a game-high total of 17 points. Her sister, Raniece Turner, also continues to be a force for the Sky as she finished with 5 points this week. Jessica Backman threw in another 4, while both Nicole Watkins and Liza Lake added 2 points in the victory.

The Sparks were led by the duo of Siobhan Reidy and Olivia Cigna. The girls combined for 9 of the team's 14 points scoring 5 and 4 points respectively. Jessica Moore and Holly Doyle both scored a basket, and Sophie Consorti converted on a free throw for the final Sparks point.

Squirt 3's take on first place Framingham Flyers

The Wilmington Squirt 3 youth hockey team had to travel to Framingham, to take on the first place powerhouse Framingham Flyers.

Right from the start of the game Wilmington showed they would not be pushed around and established their physical presence with great neutral zone play. Goalie, Chase Perrault was on his game early making a few keys saves right off the bat. The defensive pairing of Jake Chirichiello and Brendan Kelly stood tall against the Framingham forwards and won several battles in the corners.

The defensive dominance didn't end when Justin Healy and Liam Prigmore came on the ice. They hustled to prevent any odd man rushes that started to develop when Framingham was breaking out of their zone. Brendon George, Jeb Bazile, and Colin Gates skated hard, fore-checked, and crashed the net, wearing down the Framingham defense. George scored the first goal of the game on a wrist shot to the upper right corner. George was set up on a nice clearing pass by Jake Chirichiello who got the assist. The first period ended 1-0.

In the second period the Wilmington forwards started to take over. The line of Joey Cornish, Brady Robbins, and Will Alworth energized the team and the crowd with tremendous skating and back checking. They really helped out the defense while continuing to maintain an offensive presence. Cornish, Robbins, Alworth, Healy and Prigmore had such a strong shift at one point of the period that it really softened up Framingham. George, Bazile, and Gates jumped over the boards for their shift, and took advantage of the tired Framingham team. George, assisted by Gates and Bazile, fired in another goal, giving Wilmington a 2-0 lead at the end of the second.

In the third, as they usually do, Wilmington called upon Perrault to hold the fort. Perrault didn't disappoint making several keys saves. With each save, Framingham's confidence weakened. All 10 Wilmington skaters didn't let up, and kept the pressure on at both ends of the ice. Cornish and Alworth were digging in the corners, and Robbins moved towards the front of the net. The puck was sent into the front by Prigmore, and Robbins was in perfect position to bury the goal between the Framingham goalies legs. The bench and the crowd erupted as Robbins goal clinched the game for Wilmington.

Healy, Prigmore, Kelly, and Chirichiello formed a wall around Perrault for the last few minutes of the game to secure the shut out.

Wilmington walked out of the building with a 3-0 convincing win.

Squirt 2's

The Wilmington Squirt 2's gave their fans something to cheer about on Saturday when they took on their neighbor rival in Tewksbury: The Redmen. The Wildcats came ready to play skating hard on both ends of the ice. The first line of Patrick Callahan, Ryan Packer and center Ryan Ackerley came out strong applying instant pressure on the Tewksbury defense.

The physical intensity of the game was obvious from the first drop of the puck, as the second line centered by Brian Dunfey came out on to the ice. The Brothers Davey, Bryan and Jason, patrolled the wings for Dunfey and created numerous chances as they attacked the Tewksbury net. But it was the third line that was the difference in this game.

With Joey Pastore and

Joey Cornish on the wings and Nate Packer at center, this line ended up with all the points at the end of the game. On their first shift, Joey Cornish took a pass from defenseman Peter Kourkoutas and finished the play sliding the puck between the pads of a butterfly goalie. Wilmington was up 1-0 just three minutes in to the game.

In the second period, the defense continued their stronghold on the Tewksbury forwards, limiting their scoring opportunities. The Brothers Kourkoutas, James and Peter, continually turned away the attacking Tewksbury forwards.

The speedy defensive pair of Connor Hill and Evan Munro didn't allow any breakaways, as no one was fast enough to skate by them. About half way through the second period the third line came through again as Cornish slid a pass from behind the net to Nate Packer who finished the play off with a nifty one timer that quickly shot past the Tewksbury goalie, in to the net. Wilmington was now up 2-0.

The third period had the Wilmington crowd on the edge of their seats, as they had witnessed some late game let downs recently, but not on this night. Goalie Max Churchill was the Great Wall of Churchill and except for an awkwardly deflected puck that barely slid by him about half way through the third, he wasn't going to let anything by him to relinquish his lead.

Tewksbury poured it on in the waning minutes, with the puck loose out in front of Churchill, but he stayed focused, kept the puck out of the net, and let out a primal scream of victory as the horn sounded giving the Wildcats a 2-1 win.

Squirt 1's

The Wilmington Youth

Hockey Association Squirt 1 team was back in action on Sunday night, taking on Cape Ann at the Connelly Rink in Lynn. Chase Perrault was in net, with regular net minder Sam Cedrone skating on the forward lines this week. Cedrone made the most of it, scoring in the first period to put the Wildcats on top in the early going.

Through the first period Cape Ann rallied to tie and then take a 2-1 lead, until Zachary Kincaid brought Wilmington back to a tie. A late penalty let Cape Ann end the period with a power play goal to take the lead again.

Cape Ann picked right back up in the second period, scoring early for a 4-2 lead. The Wildcats answered with Joseph Hartzell breaking out on a pass from Brendan Ardito and scoring from the right wing. Zachary Kincaid added his second goal of the game to bring the score back to even.

A series of penalty calls led to the teams skating four on four in the middle of the second period, and Derek Gallucci used the open ice to tap in the rebound of Jimmy McCarron's shot from the blue line. Cape Ann fought back to tie the score again, but the Wilmington defense continued to provide offense late in the second period, with Matt Miller skating from end to end to score.

Carrying the lead into the third period, the Wildcats took control with solid defense from Maura Fiorenza and Zachary Smith. Skating with Joe Hansen on the left side, and brother Andrew at center, Derek Gallucci put the game out of reach with two quick goals in the middle of the third period. The hat trick built the lead to 8-5, and Sam Cedrone added a late goal for the 9-5 final.

The Wilmington Mite 3 Youth Hockey team recently won a Christmas Tournament and celebrated in style.

Mite 3's take tournament title

Mite 3's

The Mite 3's traveled to Haverhill's Valley Forum ready to play in the Boston Bruins Holiday Tournament, and their first opponent was the North Shore Ice Hawks. The Ice Hawks struck first halfway through the first period by scoring two quick goals. Wilmington's offense then stepped up when center Matt MacKeil passed to Jimmy Keck who put one right between the goalies legs. In the second period Michael Sullivan made a nice pass to Brian Barry who took one in to tie up the score. Unfortunately, the Ice Hawks got a third goal in the last period to give them the 3-2 win.

The team came back in their second game of the day, against Wakefield, and crushed them. MacKeil started the scoring towards the end of the first winning a faceoff and taking the puck in for a goal. The second period started with MacKeil taking a nice shot that bounced off the goalie's pads. Charlie Chirichiello was right there to bang the puck home.

Late in the period Ryan Hayden made a nice pass to MacKeil who scored the team's third goal. The third began with Sullivan scoring two quick goals on breakaways. Wing Jordan Legere added another goal on a nice slap shot. Wakefield broke up a shut out with a goal of their own midway through the period.

Wilmington then went on a scoring spree with two goals from Sullivan, one from MacKeil, one from Keck and two from Jacob Smith. The Wildcats won 12-1 behind a tremendous effort from the defense of Owen Mitchell, Kayla Flynn, James Caples and Smith. Dylan Bloom also had a superb effort in net.

The next day, the team faced the Cape Ann Mites who scored a quick goal to start the game. Towards the end of the period MacKeil scored off a faceoff to tie the score. Both teams skated hard to start the second period until a little over half way through Sullivan made a backhand pass to Legere who tipped it in. Cape Ann rallied and scored two goals to end the period 3-2.

The third period began with Barry scoring off a rebounded shot from Sullivan. Ryan Murray then took a pass from Legere and scored a nice goal. He followed that up by scoring a second goal off his own rebounded shot to make the score 5-3.

Cape Ann attempted a comeback by scoring a fourth goal but Wilmington's defense held their ground. To seal the deal, Keck took a slap shot from the left side the slid through the goalie's legs and stopped. Barry came in from the wing and tapped it in to give the Wildcat's a 6-4 win.

Saturday the Wildcats played Tewksbury. The first period ended 0-0. The second started with Tewksbury getting on the board with two goals. With just two minutes remaining in the period MacKeil took a pass from Keck and scored. Sullivan then took a break away in to bring the score to 2-2. With no goals in the third the game ended in a tie. Little did Wilmington know, Tewksbury would be their opponent from the Championship game as well after a few losses and total goals were added up.

Sunday morning the team came fired up and looking for a win. Again, the first period ended with no score. The defense of Mitchell, Flynn, Smith and Caples played amazing. They really made the job of the offense must easier. They made sure Bloom only had to handle a few big shots, but when he did he came up with big saves time after time.

With only 34.7 seconds left in the second period, Murray scored with an assist from MacKeil. All three Wilmington lines kept up the pressure on Tewksbury until MacKeil scored again on a pass from Legere and Barry. When the final horn sounded the Wildcats all surrounded Bloom to celebrate their victory.

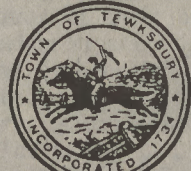

On January 12th, the Mite 3's took on Billerica at Hallenborg Memorial Pavilion. Jimmy Keck started the scoring midway through the first period on a pass from James Caples. On the next shift, Jacob Smith slid the puck in for his first goal of the game on a nice pass from Dillon Bloom. Billerica scored late to end the period 2-1.

Ryan Hayden made some big saves in the second period and the defense of Matt MacKeil, Kayla Flynn, Owen Mitchell and Ryan Murray played excellent. The only goal came at the end of the period when Smith scored his second goal on a pass from Michael Sullivan.

The third period was a bit of a shootout with Billerica starting off with a goal just one minute in. Sullivan answered with a quick goal on assists from Charlie Chirichiello and Bloom. Billerica came right back and answered with another goal of their own. Off the next face off, Sullivan passed the puck to Brian Barry who took it down the wing and scored. Barry then returned the favor and made a pass, splitting the defense, to Sullivan who scored. Billerica then slipped another shot in.

With just two minutes remaining in the game, Smith completed a hat trick on a pass from Caples. Billerica capped of the scoring a minute later but Wilmington came out with a 7-5 win.

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"ZERO DARK THIRTY"

"ZERO DARK THIRTY" STARS JESSICA CHASTAIN as a tenacious CIA agent who hunts down Osama bin Laden. The movie is a non-stop thriller, even though we all know the outcome.

"ZERO DARK THIRTY"
GRADE: ******

For nearly 10 years Americans wondered if the U.S. government would ever capture or kill Sept. 11 mastermind Osama bin Laden. Director Kathryn Bigelow and writer Mark Boal, Oscar-winners for "The Hurt Locker," had already begun developing a film about that search when something amazing happened: The Navy's SEAL Team Six found and killed the al-Qaida leader during a midnight raid in Abbottabad, Pakistan, in May 2011.

America achieved a bit of closure, and Bigelow and Boal had a new ending for their story.

"Zero Dark Thirty" is an extremely well-crafted film that has already kicked up a storm of controversy.

Some senators have questioned its accuracy, particularly with its re-creation of torture scenes including waterboarding. The Senate Intelligence Committee is questioning whether acting CIA head Michael Morell and his counterterrorism chief misled the filmmakers regarding "enhanced interrogation" techniques, and the Congressional Security Committee claimed that classified information was leaked to the filmmakers.

"Zero Dark Thirty," (so named because that phrase is military time for the beginning of the raid, 12:30 a.m. in Pakistan), is not a documentary. Bigelow and Boal say that the film is based on first-person accounts and that all of the characters portrayed are based on actual people.

Bigelow follows several aspects of the intelligence process: intense interrogations, unending paperwork and computer searches, super-high-tech tracking methods, and super-low-tech ground work. There is a barrage of faces, countries and time periods, but the common thread is a tenacious CIA agent named Maya (superbly-cast Jessica Chastain).

Chastain is joined by a splendid cast including Jason Clarke as a fellow agent, Kyle Chandler as a CIA field chief and Jennifer Ehle as a terrorist expert. Bigelow could have been swallowed by the enormous challenge of condensing 10 years and thousands of leads into one movie, but her film is the opposite: a non-stop thriller, even though we the audience knows how it ends.

The final 35 minutes or so is the bang-bang blow-by-blow of the raid itself, primarily told in the half-light green glow of night-vision scopes and goggles. It is mesmerizing and a testament to great direction, cinematography and editing.

In the end, it all came down to a single bullet from a single weapon fired by a single Navy SEAL in May 2011. It will be years, probably decades, before we know what really happened in the hunt for bin Laden. We may never know it all. But this version of events, and its salute to those who risked their lives to bring the hunt to its conclusion, makes for a great story.

"DJANGO UNCHAINED"
GRADE: ****

Quentin Tarantino delivers a bloody, vicious, controversial, and very funny Western in Django Unchained. It's everything you'd expect from a Tarantino film, with dialogue and violence so amplified and exaggerated it's almost too comedic.

Tarantino is reunited here with Christoph Waltz (who won an Oscar for his portrayal of Nazi Colonel Hans Landa in Tarantino's Inglourious Basterds) and Samuel L Jackson for this take on old Clint Eastwood spaghetti Westerns.

Joining in are Jamie Foxx as the title character, Leonardo DiCaprio as the film's mustache-twirling villain, and Kerry Washington as the leading lady in need of rescue.

Not many screenwriters can write dialogue like Tarantino, and he uses this skill to create a story skewering America's slave-owning past. While the third act of this film doesn't hold together very well, acts 1 and 2 showcase his sharpest writing in years.

The story begins in Texas, in 1858. A bounty hunter, King Schultz (Waltz) frees Django from his slave-owners because he needs his help locating some fugitives that Django can identify.

The German-born former dentist and the newly freed black man strike up a friendship and a partnership. They make a deal that if Django will work with Schultz for the winter, in the spring they will travel to Mississippi and free Django's wife, who is owned by Calvin Candie (DiCaprio). Of course, things don't go as smooth as they planned and they leave a trail of bloody corpses in their wake.

At 2 hours and 45 minutes, this is Tarantino's longest film. The tone is that of a light-hearted, bloody action film and it doesn't need to be an epic, and it would appear to have scenes that could have been trimmed.

In particular, the final tit is definitely the first half of the movie that is the most entertaining. Django Unchained is a must-see for Tarantino fans, but it's not necessary to be into either Tarantino or Westerns to be entertained by this movie.

This one's for film lovers, action and comedy fans, an ultra-violent yet highly entertaining movie.

At Wakefield Repertory Theatre "Nunsense": hilarious and habit forming!

The Little Sisters of Hoboken: (L to R) Patricia Jamison of Topsfield as Mother Superior; Denise Rich of Tewksbury as Sister Hubert; Stephanie Morey of North Reading as Sister Leo; Becky Rush of Pelham, NH as Sister Robert Ann and Cathy Nardone of Billerica as Sister Amnesia.

The Wakefield Repertory Theatre presents "Nunsense", the musical comedy by Dan Goggins, on January 25 and 26 at 8:00 pm and January 27 at 3:00 pm.

"Nunsense" is a hilarious spoof about the misadventures of five of the nineteen surviving Little Sisters of Hoboken (the rest were struck down by botulism after eating tainted vichyssoise and are now being stored in the convent's deep freeze.)

The nuns decide to stage a fundraising variety show to pay for the burials of their deceased sisters. Participating in the project are Mother Superior Mary Regina, a former circus performer who can not resist the spotlight; her competitive but dignified rival, second-in-command Sister Mary Hubert; Sister Robert Anne, a street-wise nun from Brooklyn; Sister Mary Leo, a novice who is determined to be the world's first ballerina nun; and wacky, childlike Sister Mary Amnesia, who lost her memory when a crucifix fell on her head.

The entertainment that they present includes solo star turns, madcap dance routines, and an audience quiz.

The show will be presented at Wakefield-Lynnfield United Methodist Church, 273 Vernon Street, Wakefield and features local actors.

All tickets are $20 and can be purchased online at <http://www.ticketstage.com/WRT> or by calling (781) 245-1173.

Lynnfield resident Emily Hoffman studied in Chile

LOUDONVILLE, NY
Siena College student Emily Hoffman <<http://readabout.me/Emily-Hoffman/21PW>> recently returned from studying abroad in Vina del Mar, Chile. Hoffman spent the fall semester attending classes and experiencing Vina del Mar through the college's Study Abroad program.

Hoffman, a Lynnfield resident, is a Junior Political Science major at Siena College. Hoffman was one of 77 participants in the study abroad program this semester, which sent students to countries all over the world.

OUT OF CHARACTER (WINCHESTER)

"CVS has reduced the size of its proposed new building at the corner of Washington and Swanton streets by 1,000 square feet, which is enough to do away with the need for a special permit but not enough to end public objections that the building is too massive," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"In October, CVS filed for a special permit /site plan review, with the special permit applying only to the need to share six parking spaces with the loading zone. It had been noted on the first night of the public hearing that denying the special permit could be a hook for the Zoning Board of Appeal to force CVS to reduce the size of its building.

"Attorney Mary O'Connor representing Gershman Brown Crowley Inc. (which is developing the project for CVS) told the ZBA when the hearing continued ... that they were asking to withdraw their request for a special permit without prejudice since the revised plan has a dedicated loading zone.

"O'Connor further said that they had incorporated comments from various boards and the public into new drawings. However, they have not yet filed the new plans, so ZBA members had not seen them and they are not yet available for public view.

"On display was a draft rendering of the Washington Street facade showing a completely new look

"A couple of comments indicated that the architecture, particularly some better integration of the two styles, needs more work.

"Despite the revisions, the public was not won over by the new plans.

"This is something we don't want in Winchester," one resident said...

"This project offends the character of Winchester," another stated...

"Drew Bottaro of the Planning Board said his board recommended against the project principally due to the building's being out of scale and character with the neighborhood.

"This is the tipping point," Bottaro said. "This tips Winchester from what we think it is..."

The hearing is scheduled to continue on Tuesday, Jan. 29.

PHOTOS AND RUMORS (LYNNFIELD)

Those following the progress of Lynnfield's Market Street, can - without leaving the warmth of their homes - check out recent construction-site progress via: <http://marketstreetconstruction.com/pages/Photos%20January%202013.html>.

According to several internet searches/sources, Whole Foods will be selling liquor and is already advertising for help; JP Licks is on its way, and 15 buildings are being constructed simultaneously.

A SCHOLAR AND ATHLETE (WILMINGTON)

"When it comes to choosing an athlete of the year a lot goes into the thinking and decision," notes the Wilmington "Town Crier."

"This one was easy."

"Colin Doherty is the lone male student-athlete at Wilmington High School to be a three-sport captain. He's also the lone athlete in the entire school to be named an All-Scholastic during the past calendar year, doing so this past fall during the soccer season. He's also the only kid to be named to both the Eastern Mass and All-State Boys Soccer teams, which he also accomplished in November..."

MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA:

Two schools from the state of Michigan have won NCAA Division I men's hockey championships in St. Louis. Can you name one of the two schools?

Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•Senior Craig Bennett (Milton, Mass.) won the 200 meter dash while junior Keith Lewis (Nashua, N.H.) won the 400 meters to lead the UMass Lowell men's track and field team at the Roxbury Community College Tiger Open at the Reggie Lewis Track & Athletics Center.

The non-scoring meet drew athletes and schools from all three NCAA divisions as well as many athletes representing postgraduate track and field clubs from New England.

Bennett captured the 200 meters in 22.73 seconds, edging runner-up Henry Morales of UMass Boston (22.91).

Lewis was the sole entry in the 400 meters to break 50 seconds as he posted a time of 49.86 seconds, just ahead of Michael Galasso of Holy Cross (50.01). Junior Vladimir Francois (North Attleboro, Mass.) placed ninth in 52.75.

UMass Lowell did particularly well in the throws as three River Hawks placed among the top four places in the shot put. Freshman Nicholas Staub (Dracut, Mass.) placed second with a toss of 46' 7.5" while junior Devin O'Neil (Braintree, Mass.) took third with a throw of 44' 8.0"; and sophomore Zachary Nardone (Peabody, Mass.) fourth with a distance of 44' 4.25".

Athletes & Activities by Paul Feely

O'Neil and Nardone also took third and fourth in the weight throw, O'Neil with an effort of 47' 11.0" and Nardone right behind with a toss of 47' 10.0".

Freshman Oluwatoni Onikeku (Fitchburg, Mass.) placed third in the high jump as he cleared 6' 4.75". Junior Chanra Chhean (Lowell, Mass.) also had a third place finish in the pole vault, clearing 13' 0.0".

JUNIOR CAMERON MITCHELL (WAKEFIELD, MASS.) placed fourth in the 55 meter hurdles and led three River Hawks among the top eight. Mitchell posted a time of 8.13 seconds while Lewis was fourth in 8.15 and Francois eighth in 8.36.

Mitchell also took eighth in the 55 meter dash in 6.86 seconds.

•Junior Elisabeth Monty (Charlton, Mass.) won the 55 meter hurdles and improved her standing on the NCAA Division II qualifying list to lead the UMass Lowell women's track and field team at the Roxbury Community College Tiger Open at the Reggie Lewis Track and Athletics Center.

Monty led five UMass Lowell athletes who won individual titles at the non-scoring meet, which drew athletes and colleges from all three divisions as well as many athletes representing postgraduate track and field clubs.

Monty won the 55 meter hurdles in 8.20 seconds and led three River Hawks in the top four places. JUNIOR STEPHANIE WALKER (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) placed third in 9.00 seconds while FRESHMAN REBECCA GONSALVES (WOBURN, MASS.) took fourth in 9.20 seconds.

Monty also placed seventh in the 200 meter dash in 26.32 while Gonsalves placed fifth in the high jump, clearing 4 feet, 9.0 inches.

Junior Candace Greene (Annapolis, Md.) won her third shot put title in as many meets as she covered a distance of 44' even. Senior Robyn Ciriello (Salem, N.H.) placed fourth with a throw of 37' 2.5" while SOPHOMORE KYLA HIGGINS (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) placed sixth (35' 2.0").

Junior Antoinette Toussaint (Somerville, Mass.) won the high jump and led three River Hawks in the top five places. Toussaint cleared 5' 3.0" while freshman Danielle Ringer (Norwood, Mass.) placed third with a height of 5' 1.0" and Gonsalves fifth.

JUNIOR KARIE JUDGE (TEWKSBURY, MASS.) had a solid showing in the 3,000 meters, placing second in 11:24.06, behind Amanda Waldron of Holy Cross who won in 10:52.01. Sophomore Alexis Kitsakos (Merrimac, Mass.) was the runner-up in the pole vault, clearing 8'6.0".

Other solid results included that of freshman Andrea Fanciullo (Townsend, Mass.) and sophomore Sheridan Adley (Lexington, Mass.), who finished fourth and fifth overall (first and second among college athletes) in the long jump. Fanciullo covered a distance of 16' 7.25" while Adley was right behind at 16' 5.0".

•Need some help with the trivia question? The initials of the school are M.S. and M.T.

•Senior Rachel Porter (Franklin, Mass.) set up the game-winning goal, tying the Salve Regina program record for career assists in the process, as the Seahawks skated to a 5-3 non-conference victory over Wesleyan University at Boss Arena.

Porter recorded her 42nd career assist in the second period, tying Caitlin Campbell (2005-09) for the program's all-time lead in helpers.

Sophomore Sarah Markey (Ashland, Mass.) led all players with three points on a goal

Assessing 101
There are some 1200 Assessors in Massachusetts. Most are elected part-time officials contributing their services to the community. WHAT IS THE ASSESSMENT?

The assessed value (or assessment) is the value of property to be used for local taxation, as determined by the Assessors according to Massachusetts law and regulations set by the Commissioner of Revenue.

WHAT THE ASSESSORS DO

Assessors are required by Massachusetts law to value all real and personal property within their community. They value every property, from single-family residences to the largest of commercial and industrial enterprises. They may perform this work with their own staff or they may hire a professional appraisal firm. Increasingly, Assessors use computer software as a tool to maintain values and assist with the multitude of calculations required in their work.

Every three years Assessors must submit these values to the state Department of Revenue for certification. Assessors must also maintain the values in the years between certifications. This is done so that each property taxpayer in the community pays his or her fair share of the cost of local government - no more or less - in proportion to the amount of money the property is worth.

and two assists for Salve Regina, while SOPHOMORE MICHAEL A CHIUCCARIELLO (WINCHESTER, MASS.) added both a goal and a helper in the win. FRESHMAN DANIEL PHALON (STONEHAM, MASS.) notched the game-winner, with sophomore Taylor Shepherd (Quincy, Mass.) and senior Samantha Zitzer (River Forest, Ill.) rounded-out the scoring for Salve Regina. Senior Ali Muehlbronner (Glenside, Pa.) made 21 saves in net to earn the win, improving to 7-4-0 on the year.

MISCALCULATION IN READING

In Reading late last year, two weeks after the Board of Selectmen held their annual tax hearing, a math miscalculation of over $2 million was made public that upped the amount of taxes the average home and business owner will pay - and taxes would no longer be going down.

During the tax rate hearing, held November 20, 2012, the Selectmen were working off figures provided by Assessor Victor Santaniello. In a letter to Town Manager Peter Hechenbleikner and Assistant Town Manager Robert LeLachur dated Nov. 26, Santaniello admits that a miscalculation on his part caused the wrong figures to be used during the hearing.

The tax levy amount referenced during the hearing was $53,062,973. Santaniello later said the tax levy amount should have been $55,093,634 - a difference of $2,030,661.

The night of the hearing, a tax rate of $14.39 for all classes of property, which should have resulted in a 1.11 percent drop in the average single family tax bill, and 1.91 percent for average commercial property owners, in the coming fiscal year was used.

But in the letter, Santaniello points out that the tax rate will now be $14.94, and not $14.39 as he previously stated.

Based on these new figures presented to the Board, after the Selectmen set a uniform tax rate of 1 for all residential and commercial properties, a homeowner with an average single family home in Reading (average value of $432,300) will pay an estimated $6,459 in FY 2013 in property taxes - that now represents a 2.68 percent increase in taxes over last year. The $14.39 figure had residents believing they would enjoy a drop of $70 in taxes versus last year for the average home owner.

Based on the $14.94 tax rate amount, the owner of an average commercial property in Reading, valued at $1,507,856, will now pay an estimated $22,527 in taxes, or an increase of 1.84 percent.

Originally property owners were told at the hearing there would be a drop of $423 in taxes versus last year for the average commercial property in Reading.

sales of the same properties, climbed 7.5 percent last year. That's the biggest annual increase since 2006.

CoreLogic forecasts that home prices will rise 6 percent nationally this year.

CoreLogic estimates that sales of foreclosed homes fell more than 20 percent last year, the third annual decline in a row. That decline, plus a tight supply of homes for sale in many markets, is the main factor driving home prices higher.

can serve informal meals and snacks to family and friends seated along the raised eating bar, enjoy watching flames dance in the gas fireplace, or keep track of activities on the partially covered patio.

A good-sized utility room is right around the corner, along with indoor access to a two-car garage. The bench by the door is designed for shucking off messy footgear, which can then be stowed out of sight beneath the seat. A shelved storage closet lines the hallway leading to a guest suite, which could do double duty as a home office or hobby room.

In the spacious owners' suite, amenities include a walk-in shower, private toilet, two vanities, a deep walk-in closet, and direct patio access.

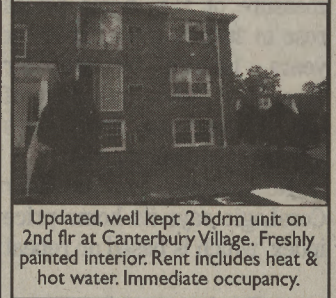

The Crownpoint's other two bedrooms share a bathroom that has a combination tub and shower.

This Week's Sampler: The Crownpoint

Crownpoint offers Prairie-style openness

Low-pitched roof lines, wide eaves, and bold squared porch support columns mark the Crownpoint as a contemporary Prairie-style home. Frank Lloyd Wright is the acknowledged master of the Prairie house, one of the few indigenous American styles.

Families who enjoy attracting and watching wild birds will particularly appreciate those wide eaves. Feeders hung there are safe from the rain and all but the trickiest squirrels.

Immediately after entering, you pass double doors that lead into what could be a dining room, parlor, or home office. A conveniently located half bathroom is directly ahead, bedrooms are to the left, and the great room is ahead and slightly to the right.

The great room fills the heart of the home and is open to the kitchen and nook as well. In the G-shaped kitchen, an array of counters, cupboards, and built-in appliances wrap around all four sides. From at or near the kitchen sink, you

Survey: US home prices rise by most in 6 years

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A measure of U.S. home prices rose in 2012 by the most in six years, buoyed by stronger demand, a lower inventory of unsold homes and fewer sales of bank-owned properties.

Real estate data provider CoreLogic says its home price index, which is based on repeat
